

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

YGL Profiles for AM15

	Profile	Country
	Facundo Garretón, President, Socialab Degree in Systems Analysis, Univ. de Tucumán; MBA, Univ. of California, Berkeley; postgrad. studies: Univ. del CEMA, UADE, Buenos Aires; Boston Univ.; IESE, Spain; ISB, India. Founder, leading ISP in northern Argentina. Founder, InvertirOnline.com; currently CEO. Vice-President: IOL TRUST Asset Mgmt; PrestarOnline.com; AhorrarOnline.com. Former Chairman, Young Presidents' Organization, Argentina. Member of the board, Internet companies in Latin America. Member: Board of Directors, Argentine Electronic Chamber of Commerce; Securities Exchange Board, Rosario. Member, Regional Board, YPO Internacional. Awards and honours.	Argentina
	Cristiano Câmara, President, Grupo Jaime Câmara Cristiano Câmara is President and Member of the Board of Grupo Jaime Câmara. He has been with the company since 2002, serving as its Chief Executive Officer from February 2011 to July 2013. He has also been Strategic Planning Manager, and Director of Strategic Planning and New Business. Prior, to working at Grupo Jaime Câmara, he was Founder and General Manager of Netcam, an ISP, and worked as a consultant at McKinsey & Company. Câmara is a Member of the Board of Instituto Jaime Câmara, his family's philanthropic initiative and Instituto Palavra Aberta, an Advocacy Group whose mission is to promote democratic freedoms, especially the freedom of speech. Câmara earned a BSc in Civil Engineering from PUC-GO and an MBA from the University of Michigan Business School, and completed the General Management Program at the Harvard Business School.	Brazil
	Claudia Sender Ramirez, Chief Executive Officer, TAM Linhas Aereas SA Claudia Sender Ramirez is the Chief Executive Officer of Tam Linhas Aereas SA, Brazil's largest airline company. Sender was previously the vice-president of the Brazil Domestic Business Unit of the company. Sender joined TAM in 2011.	Brazil
	Elaine Smith, Founder, #ProgressoSocial Brasil Network Elaine Smith has worked in the social sector since 2011 after a 19-year career in the financial industry, which included positions at Banco Patrimonio, GoldmanSachs, JPMorgan and Morgan Stanley. Since 2011, she had applied her business skills with social organizations, mainly with economically privileged youth, impact investing and financial literacy. Her recent projects involve the launch of the Social Progress Network in Brazil, and research about innovation and technology to be used in choosing social investments. Smith is a board member of Gastromotiva and a mentor at Yunus & Youth. She lived in a Brazilian favela for 32 days in 2014 during the Warriors Without Weapons programme. Smith holds degree in Business Management from Mackenzie, an MA in Finance from the University of Sao Paulo. She has also participated in the World Economic Forum's YGL Leadership in the 21st Century programme at the Harvard Kennedy School and the Owner/President Management programme at Harvard Business School. She also studies living organisms through Goethian phenomenology observation.	Brazil

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Jacqueline Musiitwa, Legal Counsel and Assistant to the President and Chief Executive Officer, PTA Bank Jacqueline Musiitwa is Managing Partner and Founder of the Hoja Law Group, a boutique law firm in New York and Kigali, Rwanda, advising on commercial, political and intellectual property law for companies doing business in Africa. Prior, she served as an adviser to the Director-General of the World Trade Organization on trade policy, development issues and private sector development for African countries and other Least-developed Countries, and an adviser to the Minister of Justice of Rwanda on investment, trade and infrastructure. Musiitwa started her legal career at Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP. She has also been an Adjunct Professor of Law at several universities in the US and Rwanda. Musiitwa is a thought leader, speaker and writer on African affairs. She has also been an Archbishop Desmond Tutu Fellow 2011 (African Leadership Institute) and a 2012 Mo Ibrahim Foundation Leadership Fellow. Musiitwa is a graduate of the University of Melbourne Law School and Davidson College. She has completed executive education at the Saïd Business School and the Harvard Kennedy School.	Burundi
	Brett House, Senior Fellow, Jeanne Sauve Foundation Brett House is a Visiting Scholar at Columbia University's Chazen Institute of International Business. Prior, he was a Global Strategist for Woodbine Capital Advisors, Principal Advisor in the Executive Office of the Secretary-General of the United Nations, Policy Advisor at UNDP, Senior Macroeconomist with The Earth Institute at Columbia University, Economist with the International Monetary Fund and Director of Studies and Stipendiary Lecturer in Economics, Keble College, Oxford University. He has also had positions with the World Bank and Goldman Sachs International in fixed-income emerging markets and capital markets. House has been a Member of the Council on Foreign Relations, Next Generation Fellow of the American Assembly, Member of the Banff Forum, Committee Member of IRC GenR, and Founder and Chair of the Board of the US Foundation for Pearson College. A Rhodes Scholar, House has a BA (Hons First Class) in Economics from Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario and an MPhil in Economics from Oxford University. He is currently working on his DPhil in Economics at Oxford University.	Canada
	James Moore, Minister of Industry, Industry Canada James Moore, PC, MP (born June 10, 1976) is a Canadian politician currently serving as the Minister of Industry in the cabinet of Prime Minister Stephen Harper. Moore is the Conservative Member of Parliament for Port Moody—Westwood—Port Coquitlam. He previously served as Minister of Canadian Heritage and Official Languages and as the Secretary of State for Official Languages, Pacific Gateway and the Vancouver-Whistler Olympics. Prior to entering cabinet he was the Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Public Works and to the Minister for the Pacific Gateway & 2010 Olympics.	Canada
	Renée Maria Tremblay, Visiting Professional, International Criminal Court Renée Maria Tremblay is Legal Counsel to the Supreme Court of Canada and recent Visiting Professional at the International Criminal Court. She has also served at the Canadian embassies in Paris and Washington, DC, and was selected to serve at the Permanent Mission of Canada to the United Nations. Tremblay has practiced international law at Sullivan & Cromwell LLP in New York City and has served as a law clerk to the Chief Justice of Canada. She is a Vice-President of the Canadian Institute for Advanced Legal Studies and since 2009, has served on the Cambridge Lectures Committee at the University of Cambridge University. She is the sole recipient of the 2009 Prix Émergence and was named a 2011 Precedent Setter by Canadian law magazine Precedent. Tremblay holds an MBA and has completed programmes in global leadership at Harvard Kennedy School and Oxford Saïd Business School.	Canada

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Juan Carlos Pinzón Bueno, Minister of National Defence, Ministry of National Defence of Colombia Juan Carlos Pinzón Bueno is Minister of National Defence of Colombia. Prior, he served as Chief of Staff in the Office of the President of Colombia as well as Vice-Minister of Defense. Pinzón Bueno has also been Senior Adviser to the Executive Director of the World Bank, Vice-President of the Colombian Banking Association, Assistant Vice-President of Investment Banking at Citigroup, Private Secretary and Chief of Staff to the Minister of Finance of Colombia, and Economist for Colombia at Citigroup. Pinzón Bueno has an MA in Public Policy at the Woodrow Wilson School in Princeton University and an MSc in Economics from the Pontificia Universidad Javeriana in Colombia. He completed advanced studies in international relations and strategic studies at John Hopkins University, and in science and technology policy at Harvard University.	Colombia
	Eduardo A. Cruz, President and Chief Executive Officer, ARS Humano Eduardo A. Cruz is President, Chief Executive Officer and Member of the Board of Directors of ARS Humano. With more than 800 employees, over 1 million members and US$ 300 million in annual sales, ARS Humano is the largest health insurance company in the Dominican Republic, commanding a 32% market share and making the company the most admired health risk administrator of the country. Cruz recently launched Seguros Vivir, a new life insurance company with operations in several countries in Central America and the Caribbean. In addition, he is the current president of the Latin American Association of Private Health Insurers (ALAMI) and an active member in several local business associations, showing a great interest in public sector cooperation. Cruz graduated with honours in civil engineering from UNPHU in the Dominican Republic. He has two Master's of Science in Management, one from PUCMM in the Dominican Republic and another from the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta, Georgia, USA.	Dominican Republic
	Tamim Khallaf, Diplomat, Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Egypt Tamim Khallaf has been a diplomat in the Egyptian Ministry of Foreign Affairs for the past 10 years. He served in Egypt's Permanent Mission to the United Nations in Geneva, dealing with disarmament and non-proliferation issues with a particular focus on nuclear non-proliferation. As a recipient of the British Chevening Scholarship Award, he received a Master of Science in International Relations from the London School of Economics (LSE). He also has a Master of Arts in Political Science from the American University in Cairo. Khallaf was a Fellow at Harvard University's Weatherhead Center for International Affairs where he pursued research on nuclear non-proliferation and the peaceful uses of nuclear energy in the Middle East. He was also a Visiting Fellow at the James Martin Center for Non-Proliferation Studies at the Monterey Institute of International Studies in California. Khallaf is the recipient of the Sasakawa Young Leaders Graduate Scholar Award.	Egypt
	Hisham El-Khazindar, Co-Founder and Managing Director, Qalaa Holdings S.A.E. Hisham El Khazindar is Co-Founder and Managing Director of Citadel Capital, a leading investment company in Africa and the Middle East, controlling investments of US$ 9.5 billion. Prior to co-founding Citadel Capital, El Khazindar was Executive Director of Investment Banking at EFG Hermes where he advised on landmark M&A and IPO transactions in the region. During 1999-2000, he was on secondment to Goldman Sachs in London. El Khazindar serves on the boards of leading regional companies, including El Sewedy Electric and Magrabi Retail, and on the Advisory Committee of the Emerging Markets Private Equity Association. He also serves as a Trustee of the American University in Cairo, as a Trustee of the Cairo Children's Cancer Hospital and as a Fellow of the Aspen Institute's Middle East Leadership Initiative. He holds a BA in Economics from the American University in Cairo (1996) and an MBA from Harvard Business School (2003).	Egypt

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Tamás Landesz, Director, Administration and Finance, World Health Organization (WHO) Tamás Landesz is Director of Administration and Finance at the World Health Organization's Eastern Mediterranean Regional Office in Cairo, Egypt. Prior, Landesz provided advice on public policy, change management and organizational development to governments and international organizations, including the Office of the Prime Minister of Lebanon, OSCE, EU, Oxfam GB and United Nations. He has been assigned to complex post-conflict hotspots in the Balkans, Caucasus, Central Asia, Middle East and South America. Landesz started his career in strategic management consulting in Eastern Europe during the transition from centrally planned to market economies. He is a Member of Michael Porter's academic network, lecturing on the microeconomics of competitiveness. He is also an adviser to the World Economic Forum's Global Shapers Hub in Budapest. Landesz holds an MPA from the Harvard Kennedy School of Government, an MA in Law and Diplomacy from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University and an MBA from Vienna. His PhD dissertation is about the future of leadership.	Egypt
	Pierre Kosciusko Morizet, Founder, Kernel Pierre Kosciusko-Morizet is an Internet entrepreneur, founder and former CEO of French e-commerce pioneer PriceMinister. After he sold Priceminister to Japanese internet giant Rakuten in 2010 for $350m, he became Rakuten Europe COO. He left Rakuten in 2014 so as to concentrate on his investments and new project, Kernel.	France
	Florence Verzelen, Director, Procurement Performance Plan, GDF SUEZ Florence Verzelen is in charge of the Performance Procurement Plan of GDF SUEZ, with a target of reducing the external spend of the company by €2 billion in two years. She is also a board member of the car company PSA. Previous to that, Verzelen was in charge of business development for GDF SUEZ and was Chief Executive of the GDF SUEZ Qatar affiliate, making her the first female CEO in Qatar's energy sector. Verzelen has also held a number of positions in the European Commission, including being in charge of trade negotiations with China and involved in the anti-trust case against Microsoft, and she has worked as an adviser to the Minister of European Affairs. Verzelen studied at the École Polytechnique and has an MBA from the Corps des Mines.	France
	Felicitas von Peter, Founder and Managing Partner, Active Philanthropy Felicitas von Peter is Founder and Managing Partner of Active Philanthropy and Managing Director of Beyond Philanthropy. Set up in 2006, Active Philanthropy helps entrepreneurial families and individuals to generate the maximum impact from their philanthropic activities and social investments. Active Philanthropy organizes workshops, expeditions and publishes guidebooks, providing a safe space to meet peers and learn from each other. Beyond Philanthropy offers individual support and consulting service for private individuals, foundations and companies that are customized to the clients' requirements. Before setting up her own organization, von Peter worked at the Bertelsmann Foundation in Germany, one of the largest operating foundations in Europe. She ran the Foundation's international projects in Media and Education, and coordinated the set-up of the Foundation office in New York. Later, she was responsible for conceptualizing and running the Foundation's national and international donor education programmes. She also co-chaired the international donor education programme "The Philanthropy Workshop" (in cooperation with the Rockefeller Foundation). Von Peter holds a PhD in History from the University of Cambridge.	Germany

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Tejpreet Singh Chopra, President and Chief Executive Officer, Bharat Light and Power Tejpreet Singh Chopra is Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Bharat Light and Power, a cleantech generation company that uses wind, solar and gas. Until recently, he was President and Chief Executive Officer of General Electric in India, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh. Chopra has 18 years of global management and finance experience in various roles held in France, England, Hong Kong, India and the US, of which over 14 years were at GE. In 2006, he became President and Chief Executive Officer of GE Commercial Finance in India, and prior to that at GE Capital Aviation Services. Chopra has been a Member of the National Council of Confederation of Indian Industry (CII), Chairman of AMCHAM India and on the Board of Directors of the US-India Business Council. He is a Member of YPO and an Aspen Institute Fellow. He was named by Business Today as one of "India's Hottest Young Executives". Chopra holds an MBA from Cornell University and a BA in Economics from St Stephen's College in India.	India
	Vandana Goyal, Chief Executive Officer, Akanksha Foundation Vandana Goyal is Chief Executive Officer of the Akanksha Foundation, non-profit organization that works primarily in the field of education. Goyal leads a team of 90 non-profit professionals, 200 teachers and close to 500 volunteers, all serving 13 schools and over 40 afterschool centres that educate 4,200 children across Mumbai and Pune in India. She joined Akanksha in 2006 as a representative on the McKinsey team that developed the blueprint for Teach for India. Prior to her current role, she was Director of Akanksha's School Project, which seeks to pioneer the charter school movement in India. Goyal began her career as a teacher and then as a programme developer and manager. She spent four years with Citizen Schools, a Boston-based non-profit organization dedicated to changing the life trajectory of underprivileged urban children. Goyal graduated Claremont McKenna College with a degree in Economics. As part of her undergraduate studies, she also spent a year at the London School of Economics.	India
	Lisa Heydlauff, Chief Executive Officer, Going to School Lisa Heydlauff is Chief Executive Officer of Going to School, a creative non-profit company that makes design-driven stories to teach the poorest young people 21st century skills at school in India. Be! an Entrepreneur, their current programme, teaches entrepreneurial skills through stories to 100,000 children in Grade 9 in 1,000 secondary government schools in Bihar. Every week children learn a skill through a story and create a skills action-project in their community.	India
	Sandeep A. Naik, Managing Director, General Atlantic Sandeep Naik is the Managing Director, General Atlantic, India. Previously, he worked Apax Partners as the Co-Head of the India office leading their investments in healthcare, financial & business services and retail & consumer groups. Prior to joining Apax, Naik was a Global Marketing Manager at Medtronic (a leader in medical devices), Scientist at Mayo Clinic and a Consultant with McKinsey & Company. He is also the Co-Founder of a medical device start-up firm, InfraScan, which is focused on detecting bleeding inside the brain using a handheld device. Naik is an avid community worker and, among other things, co-founded ToolBox India, an organization that brings together professionals and non-profits to improve productivity and efficiency within the social sector. Naik holds a BTech in Instrumentation Engineering from University of Mumbai, an MSc in Biomedical Engineering from the Medical College of Virginia and an MBA in Finance from The Wharton School of Business, University of Pennsylvania.	India

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Vishwarupe (Vish) Narain, Country Head, TPG (India) Vishwarupe Narain is the India Country Head of private equity firm Texas Pacific Group (TPG), which has invested close to $1 billion in India in various companies. Before joining TPG, he had 15 years of global experience in the US, Europe and Latin America with top tier multinational companies, including Deloitte Consulting, McKinsey & Company and several leading finance companies. Narain has advanced degrees from the Doon School and Indian Institute of Technology in India and Stanford University in the US.	India
	Rishad Premji, Chief Strategy Officer, Wipro Limited BA in Economics, Wesleyan University; MBA, Harvard Business School; General Course Program, London School of Economics; Graduate, Financial Management Program (FMP), GE. Formerly with: Bain & Co., London office, working on assignments across consumer products, automobiles, telecom and insurance: GE Capital, US, across several businesses throughout the insurance and consumer lending. Currently, Chief Strategy Officer and Member of the Board, Wipro. Board Member: Azim Premji Foundation; Wipro-GE Medical Systems.	India
	Sangita Singh, Chief Executive, Healthcare, Life Sciences and Services, Wipro Limited Sangita Singh is Senior Vice-President and Global Head of Healthcare, Life Sciences and Services at Wipro, a leading information technology, consulting and outsourcing company. In this role, she is committed to catalysing growth in the sunrise sector of healthcare and is focused on establishing Wipro as a business value enabler through strategic focus that ensures patient centricity and delivers value-based healthcare. Previously, she headed Wipro's Enterprise Application Services (EAS) business unit of Wipro and was Chief Marketing Officer at Wipro. Singh is focused on people engagement issues and champions the gender diversity cause in different industry forums such as Fortune, Catalyst, FICCI and NASSCOM. Her awards and recognitions include winner of the Stevie Award for "Best Asian Woman Executive" and winner of "Excellence in Information Technology" award by FLO, the women's wing of FICCI. She has also been listed as a top 50 youth icon by Indian Today, a leading Indian magazine, and featured in Business Today's top 25 hottest young managers.	India
	Shivinder Mohan Singh, Executive Vice-Chairman, Fortis Healthcare Limited Degree in Mathematics, Saint Stephens College, India; MBA, Duke University Business School, US. 1996, joined Fortis Healthcare, consecutively: Management Trainee; Executive Assistant to the Chairman; Project Leader; Chief Operating Officer; Director, Projects; Joint Managing Director; since 2006, current position. Chairman: Health Services Committee, FICCI; Delhi State Council, CII. Director: Ranbaxy Laboratories; Religare Enterprises; Fortis Healthworld; SRL Ranbaxy; Step by Step school. Member of the Board: Indo British Partnership Network; Advisory, Aspire.	India
	M. Arsjad Rasjid P. Mangkuningrat, Vice-President Director and Group Chief Financial Officer, PT Indika Energy Tbk M. Arsjad Rasjid P. Mangkuningrat is Vice-President Director and Group Chief Financial Officer of PT Indika Energy, Indonesia's leading integrated energy company, and Director of PT Kideco Jaya Agung, Indonesia's third largest coal producer. He also serves as President Commissioner of PT Mitrabahtera Segara Sejati, Commissioner of PT Tripatra Engineers and Constructors (TPEC) and PT Tripatra Engineering (TPE), Commissioner of PT Petrosea, Commissioner of PT Indika Mitra Energi, President Director of PT Indika Infrastruktur Investindo, and Director of PT Indika Energy Infrastructure. He was listed as the Best Executive in Indonesia 2010 in Asiamoney magazine. Mangkuningrat studied computer engineering at the University of Southern California and graduated from Pepperdine University in California with a BA in Business Administration. He also completed executive education courses at the Harvard Kennedy School in the US and the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public	Indonesia

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Policy in Singapore.
	Pasquale Salzano, Senior Vice-President, Government Affairs, Eni SpA Pasquale Salzano, an Italian career diplomat, was born in Italy in 1973. He is Vice-President for International Governmental Affairs at ENI, a post held since 2011. Previously, he was a Director at the Heiligendamm L'Aquila Process at the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) in Paris. In 2008 he was Head of the G8 Sherpa Italian Presidency Office. In 2007, Salzano was an Adviser in the Diplomatic Office of the Italian Prime Minister, directly responsible for all bilateral relations with European countries, international organizations and the G8/G20 summits. Prior to that, he was Chief-of-Staff at the Italian Mission to the United Nations in New York; Head of the Italian Office in Kosovo in 2002-2005; and Chief-of-Staff at the OSCE Mission in Belgrade in 2001. Salzano holds a PhD in International Law.	Italy
	Lin Kobayashi, Chair of the Board, International School of Asia, Karuizawa (ISAK) Lin Kobayashi is Co-Founder and Chair of the Board at the International School of Asia in Karuizawa (ISAK). Launched in 2008, ISAK aims to be Japan's first international boarding high school, scheduled to open in 2014. The school's mission is to develop transformational leaders to serve the greater good in Asia and beyond. ISAK is unique in terms of its rigorous academic programme, leadership and design focus, and emphasis on diversity. Kobayashi began her career at Morgan Stanley. She also worked at UNICEF for two years, organizing non-formal education projects for street children. Prior to UNICEF, she worked as a Country Officer for the Philippines at JBIC, an implementation agency for Japan's Official Development Assistance. Kobayashi holds an MA in International Educational Policy Analysis from Stanford University and a BA in Development Economics from the University of Tokyo. She received "Changemaker of the Year" Award from Nikkei Business in 2013.	Japan
	Shoukei Matsumoto, Managing Director and Buddhist Priest, Japan Fellowship of Buddhists Shoukei Matsumoto is Managing Director of the Japan Fellowship of Buddhists and a Buddhist Monk in the Komyoji Temple, Jodo-Shinshu Hongwanji-ha. After completing a BA in Literature from the University of Tokyo in 1979, he served as Head of the Komyoji Young Buddhist Association and initiated new projects such as the Temple Cafe? Project. In 2008, the association was awarded the Shoriki Matsutaro Prize. Matsumoto is also the Founder of Virtual Temple Higanji, one of the most popular websites for Buddhists in Japan. In 2011, he completed an MBA from the Indian School of Business as an Ambassadorial Scholar of the Rotary Foundation. After graduating, he started Mirai no Jushoku-Juku, a temple management school for Buddhist priests and monks. Matsumoto has published more than five books in Japanese, some of which have been translated into other languages.	Japan
	Yoshinobu Nagamine, Researcher, Secretariat of the International Peace Corporation Headquarters, Cabinet Office of Japan Yoshinobu Nagamine is Programme Adviser at the Secretariat of the International Peace Cooperation Headquarters within the Cabinet Office of the Government of Japan. Previously, he worked at the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) in Japan, Afghanistan and the Democratic Republic of Congo, as well as at the International Organization for Migration (IOM) in Aceh, Indonesia, Pakistan and Switzerland and at the Development Bank of Japan. Nagamine has a PhD in Human Security Studies from the University of Tokyo University and an MA from Waseda University in Japan and the Graduate Institute for International Studies in Geneva, Switzerland.	Japan

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	William H. Saito, Special Adviser, Cabinet Office of Japan William H. Saito is one of the world's leading authorities on encryption, authentication and biometric technologies. He is President and Chief Executive Officer of InTecur, a venture capital firm and consultancy that identifies innovative technologies, develops global talent and helps entrepreneurs become successful. In 2012, he became a Council Member on national strategy and policy for the National Policy Unit, a cabinet-level organization that reports directly to the Prime Minister of Japan. Since 2011, he has been Chief Technology Officer of the Fukushima Nuclear Accident Independent Investigation Commission (NAIIC). In Japan, Saito has served as an adviser to METI, MIC, MEXT and MLIT, the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS), the National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology (AIST) and the Information Technology Promotion Agency (IPA) of Japan. He was recently selected by the Nikkei as one of the "100 Most Influential People for Japan". He is the author of a book on management, "The Team: Solving the biggest problem in Japan", which has become a bestseller.	Japan
	Sara Menker, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Gro Intelligence Bachelor's degree, Mount Holyoke and London School of Economics; MBA, Columbia Business School. Former Vice-President, Commodities Group, Morgan Stanley. Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Gro Intelligence and Founding Partner, Gro Energy. Chair of the Board, Truth Aid. Trustee, Mandela Institute of Development Studies. Fellow, African Leadership Initiative, Aspen Institute	Kenya
	Hassan El Houry, Chief Executive Officer, National Aviation Services Hassan El-Houry is the Chief Executive Officer of National Aviation Services (NAS), a leading provider of quality airport and aviation services in the Middle East, the Indian subcontinent, Afghanistan and Africa. The company provides comprehensive ground-handling solutions (ramp, passenger and cargo handling), as well as FBO terminal management, lounge management, meet and assist services, aviation training, aviation security, and travel services to retail customers. Under his leadership, NAS received numerous awards, including the prestigious "Best Ground Handling Company in Emerging Markets" Award. El-Houry serves as the Chairman of Royal Aviation, an FBO terminal owner, Vice-Chairman of United Projects Company, a listed Kuwaiti company that constructs and manages large real estate projects, and Board Member of Massaleh Real Estate Company. He holds an MBA from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania and a BA from the American University of Beirut.	Kuwait
	H.H. Tunku Ali Redhauddin Tuanku Muhriz, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Munarah Foundation Tunku Ali Redhauddin Tuanku Muhriz is Tunku Besar Seri Menanti of Negeri Sembilan, Malaysia. Beyond his official role, he divides his time between private investments, corporate and non-profit boards, and educational causes. Tunuku Ali is Chairman of the Munarah Foundation, Chairman and Founding Trustee of Teach for Malaysia and Royal Patron of Enactus Malaysia Foundation. He is also Pro-Chancellor of Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia, a Fellow at the Centre for Advancement of Social Business at Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia and Governor of Marlborough College Malaysia. Tunuku Ali is Chairman of Bumi Armada Berhad, an oil and gas services company and sits on the boards of Bangkok Bank Berhad, Sun Life Assurance Malaysia, Themed Attractions, Destination Resorts, and Iskandar Malaysia Studios. Previously, Tunuku Ali was a management consultant with McKinsey & Company and Senior Vice-President VP/Director at the Investments Division of Khazanah Nasional, Malaysia's Sovereign Development Fund. He holds an MPA from Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government and a BA (Hons) in History and Social and Political Sciences from the University of Cambridge	Malaysia

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Nishan Degnarain, Member, Monetary Policy Committee, Mauritius Government Nishan Degnarain is passionate about African development. He took a sabbatical from McKinsey & Company to return to Mauritius and work with the government on a country transformation programme. He is currently Senior Economic Adviser to the Minister of Finance and Economic Development of Mauritius and to the Vice-Prime Minister of Mauritius. Since his return in 2011, he has been involved in several aspects of public sector and economic reform, including the country's Africa Strategy. Prior to McKinsey, Degnarain worked in the Strategy Unit of the Office of the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom under Tony Blair, as well as at World Bank and for the Government of Dubai. He began his career as a journalist with the BBC. Degnarain holds an MPA from Harvard's Kennedy School of Government in International Development and a degree in Economics and Geography from the University of Cambridge.	Mauritius
	Emilio Lozoya, Chief Executive Officer, Pemex - Petroleos Mexicanos Emilio Lozoya is Chief Executive Officer of Petróleos Mexicanos (Pemex). Prior to his appointment, he headed the international affairs office during the campaign and then transition team of the current President of Mexico. Lozoya co-founded and served as an executive board member of different investment funds, specializing in international private capital investments, including restructuring and international transactions, as well as related to infrastructure, the finance sector and IT. From 2006 to 2012, he worked at the World Economic Forum as Senior Director for Latin America, and from 2003 until 2006, he served as an Investment Officer for Structure Finance and Distressed Assets at the Inter-American Investment Corporation. He also worked at the Central Bank of Mexico, responsible for investing international reserves in securities. Lozoya is the author of numerous publications on monetary policy, productivity and competitiveness, public policy, and education and electoral systems. He holds a BSc in Economics from ITAM, a BA in Law from UNAM and an MPA in International Development from Harvard University.	Mexico
	Carlos Mota, Columnist, El Financiero BA in Business, ITAM Business School; MBA, Univ. of Maryland. Mexican business columnist and business analyst on TV, radio, newspaper and Internet in Mexico; conducted hundreds of live interviews with CEOs, entrepreneurs and business people. Young Global Leader (2011). Author and regular speaker on the Mexican business environment. Interests: democratizing business information so anybody can join the value creation chain that comes from business.	Mexico
	Guillermo Romo, President, Grupo Mega Guillermo Romo entered the business world at the age of 17 and has since achieved several business successes, including the sale of Tequila Herradura, his family's original business, to Brown-Forman Corporation - a transaction valued US$ 876 million. In 2003, Romo created Grupo Mega, a holding company that integrates financial services, with assets of US$ 150 million (there was a nominal increase of 11% between 2010 and 2011). Grupa Mega is ranked as the 5th largest independent leasing company in Mexico and has an investment rating by Standard & Poor's and Fitch Ratings. Other investments include Global Strategic Investments, Millesime Compagnie Financiere and the RFO fund. Romo is Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer Grupo Mega and has seats on the boards of Brown-Forman, Mexican Tequila Association, Banamex and Nacional Financiera (Jalisco Chapter). He is active in social responsibility projects such as Teleton and Endeavor.	Mexico

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Bayartsetseg Jigmiddash, Secretary of State, Ministry of Ministry of Justice and Home Affairs of Mongolia Bayartsetseg Jigmiddash is State Secretary of the Ministry of Justice of Mongolia. Prior, she served as a legal adviser to the President of Mongolia, and assisted the current head of state, Tsakhiagiin Elbegdorj, on various legal initiatives, including judicial reform and abolishment of the death penalty. Jigmiddash has worked for a number of think tanks and institutions in Mongolia, as well as for the American Bar Association's flagship programme in the region – the Rule of Law Initiative. Jigmiddash was a Karpatkin Policy Fellow at the Consumers Union in Washington DC, where she engaged in public advocacy work at the US Congress. She holds an LLM from Harvard Law School and graduated with honours from the Law School of National University of Mongolia. She is also a visiting scholar at Columbia Law School in New York.	Mongolia
	Biola Alabi, Managing Partner, Biola Alabi Media Consulting Biola Alabi is an African media expert based in Lagos, Nigeria. Until recently, Alabi served as Managing Director of the M-Net (the Electronic Media Network), where she spent five years increasing the company's Africa portfolio, including overseeing the launch of AfricaMagic Hausa, Yoruba and Swahili. She also oversaw four editions of the popular reality series Big Brother Africa and the glittering Face of Africa Finale in Lagos in 2010. Alabi spearheaded the ambitious multi-channel expansion of the hugely popular AfricaMagic brand into an impressive eight channel line-up. Passionate about African film and television, she recently worked to launch the inaugural AfricaMagic Viewers' Choice Awards, a successful initiative, which is now entering its second year. Alabi previously worked with leading brands Sesame Street, Bigwords.com and Daewoo Motors, and is currently consulting on special projects for M-Net. She is the winner of numerous awards, including a prestigious 2013 AABLA win as West African Business Woman of the Year. In 2013, she was named one of the 20 Youngest Power Women in Africa by Forbes magazine.	Nigeria
	Nina Jensen, Chief Executive Officer, WWF Norway Nina Jensen is the Chief Executive Officer of WWF-Norway. She has marked herself as a distinct voice in the Norwegian environmental debate and her goal is to boost the Norwegian environmental movement into a new momentum. Jensen started her career at WWF-Norway as a volunteer in 2003 and was employed as an adviser after delivering her master's thesis in Arctic marine biology in 2005. She then became Head of WWF-Norway's Marine Programme, then Conservation Director before becoming CEO in March 2012. Prior to WWF, she worked in communications and marketing. Jensen has a BA in Marine Biology from James Cook University and an MA in Marine Biology from the Norwegian College of Fishery Science at the University in Tromsø.	Norway
	Mette-Marit of Norway, Crown Princess of Norway, The Royal Palace H.R.H. Crown Princess Mette-Marit of Norway is actively involved in HIV/AIDS-related work at the national and international level. In 2006, she was appointed Special Representative for UNAIDS. Two years later, she was invited by UNAIDS to participate in strategic planning of the future AIDS response. She has also spent three months at the Norwegian Agency for Development Cooperation, where she focused on HIV/AIDS. Another area of focus for the Crown Princess is strengthening youth leadership, which is addressed through her active participation as a Board Member of The Crown Prince and Crown Princess' Fund, which aims to empower youth in Norway. The Crown Princess is patron of the Norwegian Red Cross, among several other organizations, and has been a Member of the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on Healthy New Generation. She holds a Master's degree in Management from BI Norwegian Business School and has studied development issues at the School of Oriental and African Studies in London.	Norway

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Nauman Khan, Managing Director, Almoiz Industries Limited Nauman Khan founded Almoiz Industries, the largest manufacturer of sugar and its by-products in Pakistan, which uses a unique production process and biomass-based energy sales to create a paradigm shift in the way sugar manufacturing operations are thought of in sub-tropical countries. Prior, he worked for Goldman, Sachs & Co and PepsiCo in the US. Khan is a Board Member of several PepsiCo franchise companies in Pakistan, with an active advisory role in business strategy. He also has a keen interest in technology entrepreneurship and is an avid angel investor. Khan is an active contributor in the field of education and serves on the boards of several universities and schools in the US and Pakistan. He recently founded the Institute for Career and Personal Development (ICPD) in Lahore with the aim to provide intensive training in essential work skills and key personal qualities to college graduates. Khan has a MA in Industrial Engineering and Engineering Management, and BA in Economics, both from Stanford University.	Pakistan
	Chen Qiqing, Director, Central Party School of the Communist Party of China Chen Qiqing is an Associate Professor at the Central Party School of the Communist Party of China where he teaches senior and mid-rank leading party cadres. He is also Director of the Department of Microeconomics, focusing on finance and economics. Chen was the Vice-Mayor of Fuqing City in Fujian, People's Republic of China, from 2012 to 2013. In 2007, he worked for the State Administration of Foreign Experts Affairs of China. In December 2010, Chen was awarded the Outstanding Youth Expert title granted by the institutions directly under the CRC Central Committee. He received a BA, MA and PhD in Finance from the Renmin University of China. Chen was a Visiting Scholar at Georgetown University in the US in 2009.	People's Republic of China
	Lee Xiaodong, Chief Executive Officer, China Internet Network Information Center Many years' experience in information industry and Internet development in China. Formerly in charge of Chinese domain name research and deployment; led the "dotChina" application launched in 2010. Currently, CEO, China Internet Network Information Center; Professor, Chinese Academy of Sciences. Expert: Ministry of Industry and Information Technology (MIIT); China Communications Standards Association (CCSA); Internet Society of China; China Association of Communication Enterprises (CACE); Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN); Internet Engineering Task Force (IETF); and others. Recipient of awards and honours, including: Ten Outstanding Youth of China Software Industry (2008); China Youth Medal, the highest award for youth in China (2009).	People's Republic of China
	Tian Wei, Moderator and Host, CCTV News, China Central Television Formerly: Correspondent, Washington DC; covered wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. Currently, Moderator and other position, flagship interview programme on CCTV; also main anchor of CCTV's special coverage of important domestic and international events such as the Sichuan earthquake, Beijing Olympic Games and China's space programme. Writes weekly column for a popular newspaper in China. Recipient of numerous journalism awards.	People's Republic of China
	Martin Aspillaga, Managing Director, Salkantay Partners Martin Aspillaga is Managing Director and Founder of Salkantay Partners. Prior, he worked at Enfoca Investments, Bain & Company, McKinsey & Company and as a Peruvian bank regulator. Aspillaga also teaches at Universidad del Pacifico and Universidad de Piura. He is part of Red 40+ of Enseña Perú and Vice-President of the Harvard Business School Club in Peru. He has published poetry, short stories and articles. Aspillaga has an MBA from Harvard Business School and a BA in Economics from Universidad del Pacifico.	Peru

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Michal Krupinski, Managing Director, Bank of America Merrill Lynch Michal Krupinski is Managing Director at Bank of America Merrill Lynch, responsible for activities in Central and Eastern Europe. In 2008-11, he served as Alternate Executive Director on the Boards of the World Bank Group (IBRD, IFC and MIGA), focusing on World Bank Group projects in Central and Eastern Europe and Central Asia, and issues related to the financial crisis, the G20, climate change and energy. In 2006-2007, Krupinski served as Deputy Minister of the State Treasury of Poland, leading the reform process of the electricity industry. At the age of 25, he was the youngest person in Poland's history nominated to a ministerial level position. Krupinski started his professional career working for the EU in Brussels. He is one of the co-founders of the Kosciuszko Institute, a leading CEE policy think tank. Krupinski received an MA in European Economy from the Catholic University of Louvain, an MSc in International Economics from the Warsaw School of Economics and an MBA from Columbia University.	Poland
	Katarzyna Pisarska, Founder and Director, European Academy of Diplomacy Dr. Katarzyna Pisarska is a social entrepreneur, civic activist & political scientist. As the Founder and Director of the European Academy of Diplomacy, in less than a decade she has transformed a "start-up" institution into an international renowned diplomatic academy, with over 5000 Alumni coming from 40 countries. Throughout her career she has inspired and led change within a number of organizations, including the Community of Democracies and the Council of Europe, in cooperation with which she currently runs the Visegrad School of Political Studies. In addition to her leadership and management experience Dr. Pisarska pursues a career in academia. She is an Assistant Professor at the Warsaw School of Economics, an Associate Scholar at the Center for European Policy Analysis in Washington D.C and a Visiting Professor at the Azerbaijan Diplomatic Academy in Baku. Previously, Dr. Pisarska was a Fulbright Visiting Fellow at Harvard University (2007), a Visiting Scholar at Johns Hopkins University's School of Advanced International Studies (2010) and at the University of Oslo (2012). In 2015 she will be a Visiting Scholar at the Australian National University in Canberra. Recent Distinctions: Young Global Leader, World Economic Forum in Davos (2014); "99 under 33" most influential world foreign policy leaders, Diplomatic Courier (2013); Outstanding Young Scholars Award (2013-2016), Polish Minister of Science and Higher Education (2013).	Poland
	Abdulla Bin Ali Al Thani, President, Hamad bin Khalifa University; Vice-President, Education, Qatar Foundation Abdulla bin Ali Al Thani is President of Hamad Bin Khalifa University (HBKU) and Vice-President of Education of the Qatar Foundation, which was established in 1995 to accelerate human development in Qatar and the Arab region. HBKU is working with partner universities to build a research-based, multidisciplinary centre of academic excellence, with a unique student experience based on holistic development of the individual within an Arab and Islamic environment. Al Thani is also Chair of the World Innovation Summit for Education (WISE), the leading global forum for the development and implementation of innovative practice in education, which consists of an annual summit of educational stakeholders from multiple sectors and a series of practical initiatives to transform education. Al Thani launched the project to build the Qatar Foundation's Central Library, which will also be the National Library of Qatar. He also serves on the Executive Council of the World Digital Library, based at the Library of Congress in Washington DC.	Qatar
	Hong Jeongdo, Chief Executive Officer, JoongAng Media Network Hong Jeongdo is the Executive Director of JoongAng Media Network (JMnet), the largest media group in South Korea. He is in charge of managing 25 kinds of media such as newspapers, broadcasting and magazines. He joined JMnet in 2005 as a member of the Strategy Planning Office. In 2010, he supervised the overall process of the newspaper format change; it was the first newspaper company in Asia to switch to the Berliner format and successfully open an online portal site, Joins MSN.com. In 2011, Hong led the successful M&A of two of the largest cinema multiplex chains, Megabox and Cinus, and strengthened the	Republic of Korea

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	corporate's top position in the theatre industry. As for the broadcasting business, Hong has played a crucial role in launching and operating the new general programming channel, JTBC, since the second half of 2011. Hong started his career at Accenture as a business consultant, specializing in communications and IT industry. He earned a BA in Economics from Wesleyan University and an MBA from Stanford University in the United States.
	Dong-Kwan Kim, Managing Director, Hanwha Group Dong Kwan Kim is Chief Strategy Officer of Hanwha Q CELLS and Managing Director of the Hanwha Group. Since 2010, he has been responsible for long-term strategic planning and new business development in Hanwha Group. As the Hanwha Group committed renewable energy as its new growth engine, he assumed his position as Chief Strategy Officer of Hanwha SolarOne, a Shanghai-based PV manufacturer, in 2011. In this position, he formulated and executed the group-wide solar strategy across the entire value chain, from polysilicon to downstream operation. In 2012, he led the acquisition of Hanwha Q CELLS, an industry-leading European PV company, and currently he serves the company as Chief Strategy Officer, where he focuses on accelerating Hanwha Q CELLS' global market leadership and strategy development of downstream business. Kim earned a BA in Government from Harvard University. Upon graduation, he served as an interpreter officer in the Korean Air Force.	Republic of Korea
	Lee Joosung, Executive Vice-President, SeAH Steel Joosung Lee is a Senior Vice-President at SeAH Group and serves as Head of Strategic Planning Division at SeAH Steel. His responsibilities include strategic planning, new business development, accounting, finance, human resource development, raw material procurement and production planning. Previously, he worked at Accenture and Merrill Lynch in Seoul where he was involved in numerous landmark M&A and capital markets transactions. Lee holds a BA in Economics and East Asian Languages and Civilizations from the University of Chicago and an MBA from Columbia University.	Republic of Korea
	Igor Luksic, Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs and European Integration of Montenegro, Office of the Prime Minister of Montenegro Igor Luksic is Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs and European Integration of Montenegro. He is also Vice-President of the ruling Democratic Party of Socialists and a Member of the Council for Economic Sciences of the Montenegrin Academy of Sciences and Arts. In December 2010, he was elected Prime Minister of the Government of Montenegro. He has also served five terms as Finance Minister and two terms as Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs of Serbia and Montenegro. From March 2003 to June 2006, he was a Member of Parliament of Serbia and Montenegro. He was elected Member of Parliament of Montenegro six times. Luksic graduated from the Faculty of Economics in Podgorica, earning an MA. His PhD thesis was entitled "Transition - Process of Achieving Economic and Political Freedoms".	Republic of Montenegro
	Vuk Jeremic, President, Center for International Relations and Sustainable Development (CIRSD) Vuk Jeremic is the President of the Center for International Relations and Sustainable Development (CIRSD), an international think tank based in Belgrade and New York. In June 2012, he was directly elected by the majority of world nations to the post of President of the 67th session of the UN General Assembly. During his term, he played a leading role in steering the UN towards the establishment of the post-2015 sustainable development agenda, and facilitated the adoption of the breakthrough Arms Trade Treaty. Jeremic served as Serbia's Foreign Minister from 2007 to 2012. In 2007, he chaired the Council of Europe's Committee of Ministers, and from 2011 to 2012, he led Serbia's successful campaign to preside over the OSCE in 2015. Jeremic was elected President of the Serbian Tennis Federation in 2011 and appointed to the Leadership Council of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network in 2014. He is a graduate of the University of Cambridge and Harvard University.	Republic of Serbia

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Elizaveta Osetinskaya, Editorial Director, RBC Media Holding Elizaveta Osetinskaya is Editor-in-Chief of Forbes Russia, considered by many to be the only independent and reliable business magazine in the Russian Federation. Osetinskaya began her career at Rosbuisenessconsulting and then at the Segodnya newspaper as a correspondent specializing in energy. She then worked at Vedomosti, a joint venture between the Financial Times and Wall Street Journal, starting as a correspondent, then as the Energy and Industry Editor and culminating as Editor-in-Chief. In 2010, she digitalized Vedomosti's content and was named Editor-in-Chief of Vedomosti online edition. Osetinskaya studied Economics at Moscow University.	Russian Federation
	Gassan Al Kibsi, Managing Partner, McKinsey & Company BSc in Industrial Engineering, Georgia Institute of Technology; MSc (Hons) in Operations Research and MBA (Hons) in Strategic Management, MIT. Former Director of Strategy and Business Development, WorldSpace Management Corporation. 1997, joined McKinsey, Washington DC; currently, Director, McKinsey and Company and Managing Partner, Saudi Arabia Office; leads the Public Sector Practice, which focuses on areas of economic and social development and public policy; also co-leads the Energy Practice in the Middle East with a focus on upstream oil and gas. Author of various articles. Recipient of awards, including: National Achievement Award, Yemen.	Saudi Arabia
	Fahd Al Rasheed, Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, King Abdullah Economic City Fahd Al Rasheed is Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer of Emaar Economic City, a publicly listed Saudi company leading the development of King Abdullah Economic City (KAEC). Prior, Al Rasheed held the post of Deputy Governor and CFO of the Saudi Arabian General Investment Authority (SAGIA). He also worked for Saudi Aramco's Finance Division where he led initiatives in investments and corporate finance. Al Rasheed serves on the boards of several organizations, including Emaar Economic City, the Ports Development Company, the Jeddah Chapter of the Young President Organization, and the Foundation Board of the World Economic Forum's Global Shapers Community. He has served on the Forum's Global Agenda Councils on Real Estate and on Urbanization. Al Rasheed has received several recognitions, including the 2012 Property CEO Award from Middle East CEO. He holds an MBA from the Stanford Business School, a BA in Business Administration from Washington University in St Louis, and is a graduate of the Harvard Graduate School of Design's Advanced Management Development Program in Real Estate.	Saudi Arabia
	Kevin Lu, Managing Director and Member of Global Executive Board, Partners Group Kevin Lu is Managing Director of the Partners Group, a global private equity firm. He is also a Distinguished Fellow with the INSEAD Global Private Equity Initiative, focusing on infrastructure investing. Prior, Lu held senior positions at the World Bank Group, including Chief Financial Officer and Regional Director for Asia-Pacific MIGA. At the World Bank, he was responsible for investment portfolios totalling $16 billion and participated in multilateral funding packages in excess of $25 billion. Lu was previously associated with CSFB and Global Risk Advisors in New York. He sits on the Emerging Markets Advisory Council of the Institute of International Finance (IIF), the MBA Advisory Council of Nanyan Technology University and the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on China and the World Economic Forum's Strategic Infrastructure Initiative Advisory Committee. Lu was honoured as a Future Leader by IIF. He is the author of "Investing with Confidence: Understanding Political Risk Management in the 21st Century", and has been published in The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, Foreign Policy, Huffington Post and Project Syndicate.	Singapore

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Anna Marrs, Group Head, Commercial and Private Banking Clients, Standard Chartered Bank Anna Marrs is the head of Standard Chartered's Commercial and Private Banking Clients segments globally. She joined Standard Chartered Bank as Group Head of Strategy and Corporate Development in January 2012. Prior to joining Standard Chartered, she was a Partner in McKinsey & Company's Banking Practice. Before joining McKinsey in 2003, Anna was the CEO of a financial information company based in London. She started her career at D. E. Shaw, a New York-based investment firm. Anna holds an MBA from London Business School and an undergraduate degree from Northwestern University in Chicago. Anna is married with two children and lives in Singapore.	Singapore
	Lutfe Siddiqi, Global Head, Emerging Markets - FX, Rates and Credit, UBS AG Alumnus, LSE and United World College. With UBS: Member, Global Exec Committee, FX Rates & Credit (FRC) Emerging Markets and Financial Institutions Group, Investment Bank; currently, Global Head, Emerging Markets - FX, Rates and Credit. Adjunct Professor, National Univ. of Singapore. Board Member, CFA Singapore. Young Global Leader and member, advisory network on Risk Resilience, World Economic Forum. Speaker, writer, media appearances on financial markets, policy implications, leadership and risk, country competitiveness, FDI, future of finance and funding models for social enterprise. Designated Commercially Important Person, Bangladesh.	Singapore
	Benjamin Soemartopo, Managing Director; Head, Principal Finance, Indonesia, Standard Chartered Bank Benjamin Soemartopo is Managing Director of Standard Chartered's Principal Finance and Private Equity practice in Indonesia, which invests in companies, infrastructure and real estate, and provides development capital for growth, acquisitions and joint ventures, and helps to professionalize family businesses and prepare them to become public companies. Soemartopo serves on the Board of Trikomsel Tbk, Indonesia's leading mobile phone retailer, and is an adviser to Navigat, an Indonesian IPP power company. Prior to joining Standard Chartered, Soemartopo spent 12 years with McKinsey & Company and was the Managing Partner for Indonesia. There he led programmes transforming Indonesian state-owned enterprises into world-class organizations, helping family-owned businesses to professionalize, developing Indonesia's national climate change strategy, implementing educational reform and improving the impact of companies' CSR programmes. He was a leader of McKinsey's support to the Aceh Reconstruction Agency to help rebuild Aceh. Soemartopo is a Founder of the Young Leaders for Indonesia foundation.	Singapore
	Scott Spirit, Chief Strategy Officer, WPP Scott Spirit is Chief Strategy Officer of WPP, focusing on group strategy, client coordination, and investments and M&A. He is also Chairman and Founder of Leo's Foundation. Spirit previously worked at Associated Newspapers and Deloitte Consulting. He has a degree in French and Management from King's College, University of London.	Singapore
	Ivan Vatchkov, Chief Executive Officer and Chief Investment Officer, Algebris Investments (Asia) Pte Ltd BA (Hons) in Finance, Richmond University, London; MSc in International Accounting and Finance, London School of Economics. CFA charter holder. Former: Director, CFO office, Credit Suisse Investment Bank; Equity Analyst, Credit Suisse and Deutsche Bank. 2008, joined Algebris Investments as an Associate Partner, responsible for Northern and Eastern Europe, and Asia-Pacific markets: 2010, established Algebris Investments (Asia), a regulated fund management company of the Monetary Authority of Singapore; currently, Chief Investment Officer, based in Singapore. Young Global Leader, World Economic Forum (2014). Established	Singapore and operates ReachOut.BG, a children's charity based in Bulgaria dedicated to the support, housing, and education of abandoned children.

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Anton du Plessis, Managing Director, Institute for Security Studies (ISS) Three law degrees. Admitted advocate, High Court of South Africa. Has worked on human security, international criminal justice and rule of law issues in over 20 African countries, with a focus on delivering training and technical assistance to senior law enforcement and criminal justice officials. Former: Senior State Advocate, National Prosecuting Authority of South Africa; Head of the Crime and Justice Programme, ISS; criminal justice and counter-terrorism legal expert, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC), Vienna; Founder and Head of the International Crime in Africa Programme (ICAP), ISS. Currently, Deputy Executive Director, ISS and Head of the Transnational Threats and International Crime Division. Has worked as a consultant and expert adviser to UN entities and other intergovernmental organizations, including the UN's Counter-Terrorism Implementation Task Force. Member, Global Agenda Council on Terrorism, World Economic Forum. Has published articles, book chapters and training guides. Co-Author, Counter-Terrorism Law and Practice: A Practitioners' Handbook.	South Africa
	Dhananjayan Sriskandarajah, Secretary-General, Civicus: World Alliance for Citizen Participation Dhananjayan Sriskandarajah has been Director General of the Royal Commonwealth Society since 2009. His previous posts include Interim Director of the Commonwealth Foundation, an inter-governmental organization, and Deputy Director of the Institute for Public Policy Research, the UK's largest independent think tank. Sriskandarajah is an established researcher and commentator on international migration and economic development. He is the author of several books and reports, writes regularly in the press, has given more than 500 broadcast interviews and has been invited to speak in more than 40 countries. He has been a consultant to several international organizations, has been invited to give evidence to committees of both houses of the UK Parliament, the Council of Europe and the UN General Assembly, and is a trustee of five charities, including the Baring Foundation and Ockenden International. Sriskandarajah has degrees from the University of Sydney and Oxford University, where he was a Rhodes Scholar.	South Africa
	Zebulon Vilakazi, Deputy Vice-Chancellor for Research, University of the Witwatersrand Zabulon Vilakazi is Director of iThemba LABS, the largest nuclear accelerator complex in Africa and possible the Southern Hemisphere. Prior, he served more than two years as Group Executive for Research and Development at the South African Nuclear Energy Corporation. His research interests include heavy ion collisions at high energies and computational physics. Vilakazi obtained his PhD from the University of the Witwatersrand and was a National Research Foundation (NRF) post-doctoral Associate at the European Centre for Nuclear Research (CERN). He then took up an academic position at the University of Cape Town where he was involved in a large scientific project conducted at the ALICE experiment of CERN's Large Hadron Collider (LHC). Vilakazi holds the title of Honorary Professor of Physics at the University of Cape Town. He currently serves as a Member of the Program Advisory Committee of the Joint Institute for Nuclear Research in Dubna, Russia. From 2009 to 2011, he served as Chairman of the IAEA Standing Advisory Committee on Nuclear Applications.	South Africa
	Asanga Abeyagoonasekera, Executive Director, Lakshman Kadirgamar Institute for International Relations and Strategic Studies Asanga Abeyagoonasekera is Adviser to the Minister of External Affairs of Sri Lanka and Executive Director of the Lakshman Kadirgamar Institute for International Relations and Strategic Studies (LKIIRSS). He is also the Director-General of BIDTI, a diplomatic training institute. Abeyagoonasekera was the former Chairman of the Foreign Employment Agency and the Ceylon Fishery Harbours Corporation, and worked in the private sector at Sri Lanka Telecom and Hutchison. He is the founding Curator of the Global Shapers Colombo Hub and	Sri Lanka

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	the Country Chair of Global Dignity, and is Chairman and Founder of the Diri Saviya Foundation, a community-based non-governmental organization in Sri Lanka. Abeyagoonasekera holds a BSC in Computer Science and an MBA from Western Australia, and completed an Executive Education programme at the Harvard Kennedy School.
	Thomas Aeschi, Member of Parliament, Swiss Parliament Master's in Public Administration, Harvard University and MBA, University of St Gallen; additional studies, Tel Aviv University and at University Sains Malaysia. Formerly in M&A with Credit Suisse First Boston in Zurich and Melbourne. Member of the Swiss Parliament and Member of the Finance Committee and the Parliamentary Delegation for the European Union and the European Free Trade Association. Strategy Consultant, PwC Strategy& (formerly Booz & Company). Former Member of the Organizing Committee of the St Gallen Symposium.	Switzerland
	Elsie S. Kanza, Senior Director, Head of Africa, World Economic Forum Elsie S. Kanza is Senior Director, Head of Africa, at the World Economic Forum. Prior to joining the Forum in 2011, she held a number of positions with the Government of Tanzania, including serving as Personal Assistant to Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete, President of the United Republic of Tanzania, where she was responsible for economic affairs, as well as working at the Ministry of Finance and Central Bank of Tanzania in various capacities from 1997 to 2006. Kanza was nominated in 2011 to the Rising Talents Program of the Women's Forum for the Economy and Society, and is a 2008 awardee of the Archbishop Desmond Tutu Leadership Fellow. She holds a BSc (cum laude) in International Business Administration from the United States International University - Africa, an MSc in Finance from the University of Strathclyde and an MA in Development Economics from Williams College.	Switzerland
	Pierre Maudet, Vice-President of the State Council, Department of Security, Police and the Economy of Geneva 2004, Bachelor's in Law and 2006, Master's in Law, Université de Fribourg. Since 1998, in politics. Former Captain, natural disaster troops, and incorporated into the top management of the Chief of the Army. 1997-2007, independent adviser in the fields of communications and event organization. 1999-2007, Member of the Legislative Council of the City of Geneva. 2005-07 President, Radical Party, Geneva; since 2005, President, Federal Commission for childhood and youth; 2007-12, Member of the Executive Council of the City of Geneva; 2011-12, Mayor of the City of Geneva. Since June 2012, Member of the Executive Council of the State of Geneva in charge of Security.	Switzerland
	Jayne Plunkett, Division Head, Casualty and Member of the Group Management Board, Swiss Reinsurance Company Ltd Jayne Plunkett is a Member of the Group Management Board and Division Head of Casualty Underwriting for Swiss Reinsurance worldwide. Based in Zurich, Switzerland, she is responsible for all Casualty reinsurance business written worldwide. Plunkett has worked over 20 years in the insurance and reinsurance industries, holding various technical and management roles at Swiss Re as well as previous employers. Plunkett received a BA in Actuarial Science from Drake University. She is a Fellow of the Casualty Actuarial Society and a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries. She serves on the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council for Oceans.	Switzerland

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Philipp Rösler, Head of Centre for Regional Strategies, Member of the Managing Board, World Economic Forum Previously, Philipp Rösler was the German Minister of Health . Born in Vietnam in 1973 and adopted by German parents, he joined the FDP (Free Democratic Party) and its youth section, the Young Liberals, of Lower Saxony in 1992. He studied medicine at Hanover Medical School and, after his Third State Examination, underwent medical specialist training at the Federal Armed Forces Station Hospital in Hamburg. He went on to work as a physician and medical officer, taking his doctorate in cardiac-thoracic-vascular surgery in 2002. Rösler became Chairman of the Young Liberals of Lower Saxony and Member of Lower Saxony's FDP Executive Committee in 1996. From 2000 until April 2004, he was voluntary FDP Secretary-General there. In 2003, he was elected Member of Lower Saxony's Parliament and Chairman of the FDP group. In 2005, he joined the FDP Federal Executive Committee and, in 2006, was elected Chairman of the FDP in Lower Saxony where, from February to October 2009, he was Minister of Economics, Labour and Transport.	Switzerland
	Mohammed Dewji, Group Chief Executive Officer, Mohammed Enterprises Tanzania Limited (MeTL) Mohammed Dewji is Group Chief Executive Officer of Mohammed Enterprises Tanzania. The Group, which employs more than 24,000 people across Tanzania and contributed to 3% of the country's GDP, has diverse interests in agriculture, manufacturing, energy, petroleum, financial services, mobile telephony, infrastructure, real estate, and transport and logistics. Dewji was elected as a Member of Parliament in the National Assembly of Tanzania in 2005. He was re-elected in 2010. Dewji studied international business and finance, with a minor in theology, at Georgetown University.	Tanzania
	Susan Mashibe, President and Chief Executive Officer, VIA Aviation Ltd Susan Mashibe is Founder, Owner and Executive Director of VIA Aviation, formerly known as Tanzanite Jet Centre (TanJet). An avid aviator and entrepreneur, she built her business to serve private aviation needs in three countries across the African continent. Mashibe became the first female FAA-certified commercial pilot and aircraft maintenance engineer in Tanzania. She is a Tanzania Country Chair for Global Dignity and the Africa Regional Lead for the National Business Aviation Association. Mashibe holds a degree from Western Michigan University.	Tanzania
	Omezzine Khelifa, Adviser to the Minister of Finance (2011-2013), Ministry of Finance of Tunisia 2006, degree in Telecommunications Engineering, ENSIMAG, France. 2006-08, Post-Trade Consultant, SGCIB, France; 2008-10, Product Manager, ULLINK, France; 2010-11, Middle Office Consultant and Account Manager, Sophis, France. 2011, Junior Civil Society Expert, Democracy Reporting International, Tunisia; concurrently, candidate for the Constituent Assembly elections. 2011-12, Leadership, Youth Branch (JSD), Ettakatol party. 2012, Adviser to the Minister of Tourism of Tunisia. 2013, Adviser to the Minister of Finance of Tunisia. 2013, elected Member of the Political Bureau, and Founder, women activists organization, Ettakatol party concurrently, Deputy General Secretary, La Marsa's local bureau, Ettakatol. Recipient, Project On Middle East Democracy, Leaders for Democracy (2012). Expertise: open governance and public budget transparency; reform management in the public sector; international relations. Interests: guitar playing, singing, reading, series.	Tunisia

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Ozlem Denizmen, Head, Social Investments, Dogus Group Graduate, Cornell University; MBA, MIT Sloan School of Management; leadership programmes, Stanford, GE Crotonville, Harvard Business School. Social entrepreneur. Since 1999, in Strategy Management, Business Development and Investor Relations, Dogus Group; currently, Head, Social Investments, Dogus Group; Member of the Board, Dogus Otomotiv. Member of the Steering Committee, Equality at Work Platform. 2010, launched Para Durumu multimedia platform, Turkey's first financial literacy initiative. Hosts a weekly TV show, a weekly column in a newspaper, radio programmes, and conducts seminars for women and students. Young Global Leader 2011, World Economic Forum. White House Delegate at the 2010 Presidential Summit on Entrepreneurship, Washington DC. Ozlem Denizmen is Executive Vice-President at the Dogus Group, responsible for strategy management, business development and investor relations. She is also head of Social Investments at Dogus Holding and a Member of the Board of Dogus Otomotiv. In 2010, Denizmen launched the Para Durumu multimedia platform, Turkey's first financial literacy initiative, and in 2012 she founded the Financial Literacy and Inclusion Association (FODER). Denizmen hosts a weekly TV show, writes weekly columns for Hürriyet and POSTA and a column in the monthly magazine ELELE, and conducts seminars for women and students on financial literacy. She was a White House delegate at the 2010 Presidential Summit on Entrepreneurship in Washington, DC, and named one of the Top 100 Powerful Women of Turkey by Dünya in 2011. Denizmen is a graduate of Cornell University and received an MBA from the MIT Sloan School of Management. She has also participated in leadership programmes at Stanford University and the Harvard Business School.	Turkey
	Ashish J. Thakkar, Founder, Mara Group Ashish Thakkar is the Founder and Managing Director of the Mara Group of companies. In 15 years, he has taken the Group from the humble beginnings of selling computers to friends, to the global firm that exists today in 18 African countries, employing over 4,500 people. Thakkar is passionate about the growth and development of Africa and focuses most of his energy on commercial and philanthropic initiatives across the continent. In 2010, the Mara Group was identified by the World Economic Forum as a dynamic high-growth company with the potential to be a driving force for economic and social change. Thakkar has been appointed on the advisory panels to several heads of state in sub-Saharan Africa and is also a team member of the Commonwealth Business Council and COMESA. He will be representing East Africa on Virgin Galactic's first mission into space, making him Africa's second astronaut.	Uganda
	Badr Jafar, Chief Executive Officer, Crescent Enterprises Badr is Managing Director of Crescent Group, under which he is CEO of Crescent Enterprises and President of Crescent Petroleum. He is also Chairman of Gas Cities and Pearl Petroleum, and Chair of the Executive Board of GulfTainer. Badr is involved in private equity, serving on the Board of The Abraaj Group and GrowthGate Capital. Badr is the Founder of Pearl Initiative, a Private-Sector initiative promoting corporate transparency and accountability in the Middle East. He is a member of the YPO Emirates Chapter and sits on the Global Board for Education for Employment, Founding Board of Endeavor UAE and Board of Governors of Synergos Arab World Social Innovators. Active within higher education, Badr chairs the Alumni Advisory Council of the Cambridge University Judge Business School and sits on their International Advisory Board. He is also a member of the American University of Sharjah Business Advisory Council and the Research and Innovation Council of the Centre of Excellence for Applied Research & Training, Higher Colleges of Technology in Abu Dhabi Abu Dhabi.	United Arab Emirates

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Rima Maktabi, Senior Anchor and Roving Correspondent, Al Arabiya Rim Maktabi is a communications professional with over 15 years' experience in television. She is currently a senior anchor and senior roving correspondent for Al Arabiya, interviewing top leaders and decision-makers in the Arab world and beyond. Prior, Maktabi worked at CNN as an anchor and reporter covering major news stories across the Middle East, including the Arab Spring revolutions in Tunisia, Egypt and Bahrain. She was also the host of CNN's renowned show "Inside the Middle East". Maktabi started her career in media in her home country Lebanon as a student, beginning with Lebanese Future TV where she spent 10 years and established her career in journalism covering/anchoring news and hosting a political show for the youth in 2005. Maktabi has received numerous accolades for her work, such as the Mohammed Bin Rashed Al Maktoum award for her July war coverage in 2006. She has an MA in International Affairs and BA in Communication Arts from the Lebanese American University in Beirut (LAU).	United Arab Emirates
	Mona Al Marri, Director-General, Government of Dubai Media Office Mona Al Marri is the Director General of the Government of Dubai Media Office (GDMO), the communication arm between the Government of Dubai, and local and international media. The GDMO also manages the media affairs of His Highness Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Vice President, Prime Minister of the UAE and Ruler of Dubai; as well as the Crown Prince and the Deputy Ruler of Dubai. Al Marri's professional experience in the fields of strategic media communications and management, public affairs, and public relations has empowered her to excel as one of the most prominent young Emirati leaders in Dubai's media landscape.	United Arab Emirates
	Shaffi Mather, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, MUrgency Inc. Shaffi Mather is currently working on a tech start-up, MUrgency, a global emergency response network on mobile phones. Previously, Mather founded a pioneering emergency ambulance service in India, which is the largest for-profit ambulance company in the developing world. The company presently runs over 1,250 ambulances with 6,000+ employees and serves over 2 million transports annually. Investors include Acumen Fund, Envision Health Care, and India's leading three financial institutions – HDFC, IDFC and IVFA. Mather also founded the Lifesupporters Institute of Health Sciences, which is now Asia's largest pre-hospital care training organization. Mather is a World Young Leader (BMW Foundation), an Asia Young Leader (Asia Society), Ted Fellow (TED), Aspen ILI (Aspen Institute), Kenneth Galbraith Scholar (Harvard University) and British Chevening Senior Scholar. He is an alumnus of Harvard University, the London School of Economics and the University of Pittsburgh.	United Arab Emirates
	Patrick Allen, Head, News and Programming, Europe, Middle East and Africa, CNBC BA in Economics. Former mini-cab dispatcher. Currently, Head of News and Programming, CNBC EMEA; responsible for CNBC business day programmes in the EMEA region; leads CNBC journalists, sets news agenda, manages key external relationships, budgets, live coverage and outside broadcast work. Interests: global markets and business, with a keen interest in finding solutions to youth employment.	United Kingdom
	Kieron Boyle, Head of Social Investment and Finance, Cabinet Office Kieron Boyle is Head of Social Investment at the UK Cabinet Office, where he leads the government's efforts to grow the social investment market. He is also the UK representative to the G8 Social Impact Investment Taskforce and the European Commission expert group on social business. Boyle has held a number of positions in the UK government, including Head of Delivery at the Department for Business, Head of Strategic Policy at the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and as a Senior Policy Adviser at the Prime Minister's Strategy Unit. He also consults for a range of international not-for-profit organizations, sits on the Chatham	United Kingdom

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	House U35 steering group and is a Trustee of one of the UK's leading charities. He started his career at The Boston Consulting Group and attended the University of Cambridge.
	Fabrizio Campelli, Head, Group Strategy, Deutsche Bank AG Degree in Business Admin., Bocconi Univ.; MBA, MIT Sloan School of Management. Formerly, at McKinsey and Company, London and Milan, focusing on strategic assignments with global financial institutions. Since 2004, with Deutsche Bank: Global COO, Corporate Finance Coverage within Global Banking; Global COO, Financial Institutions Group supporting the Corporate Finance leadership team on the turnaround of the FIG franchise; Head of Group Strategy, resp. for corporate and infrastructure strategy development and execution, corporate M&A, in-house consulting, and business integration and Group Investment Committee process; since 2014, Member, Group Executive Committee.	United Kingdom
	Roksana Ciurysek-Gedir, Director; Head, Central and Eastern Europe, Edmond de Rothschild Roksana Ciurysek-Gedir is Director of Private Merchant Banking at Edmond de Rothschild. Prior, she spent over 12 years working for Merrill Lynch, JPMorgan and the EBRD. Ciurysek-Gedir is a Founder Member and has been President of the Polish City Club. She is also a Founder Member of City Clubs Alliance. Ciurysek-Gedir is an artist and photographer and producer of the critically acclaimed short movie "Battle for Britain", starring Julian Glover. The film highlights the role of Polish pilots in the Battle of Britain. She is also the initiator and organizer of the Somebody@somePLace project, a showcase of Polish art in Brussels and London under the patronage of the Polish Presidency in the EU, with support from the NYSE Euronext and Warsaw Stock Exchange. Ciurysek-Gedir is a CFA charterholder. She earned an MSc in Management and Economics from the Technical University of Gdansk in Poland.	United Kingdom
	Brendan Cox, Director, Policy, Advocacy and Campaigns Division, Save the Children Brendan Cox is Director of the Policy, Advocacy and Campaigns Division at Save the Children. Previously, he ran a global research project and published a series of reports analysing global development campaigns and looking at future trends and opportunities. The reports were based on numerous interviews with heads of state, civil society leaders, campaigners and academics; it was funded by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. Between 2008 and 2010, Cox served as Special Advisor for Africa and International Development to the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom. Before that, he was Chief Executive of Crisis Action, a charity that addresses armed conflict. Under his leadership, the organization expanded from one office in the United Kingdom to six offices on four continents.	United Kingdom
	Stephen Frost, Director, Head of Diversity and Inclusion, KPMG International Stephen Frost is a Visiting Fellow and teacher at Harvard University, and Principal of Frost Included, an inclusive leadership practice. Prior, he was Head of Diversity and Inclusion for the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games (LOCOG, 2007-2012), responsible for diversity and inclusion across a 200,000 workforce, £1.1 billion procurement budget, 57 delivery functions and 134 venues. His team achieved unprecedented workforce inclusion and established new standards in supplier diversity. Frost established the workplace team at Stonewall, Europe's largest LGBT equality organization (2004-2007) and launched the Workplace Equality Index, now a global benchmark for organizations. A Hertford College Scholar at Oxford, Fulbright Scholar at Harvard and Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, he advises the International Paralympic Committee and the Government of the United Kingdom on diversity best practice. Frost is also Vice-President of the Chartered Institute of Personnel	United Kingdom

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	and Development and recipient of the 2010 Peter Robertson Award for Equality and Diversity Champions. In 2011, he was named one of the top 100 influential LGBT people in the United Kingdom.
	Marieme Jamme, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, SpotOne Global Solutions Blogger, tech activist and social entrepreneur. Formerly, ran a technology consultancy business in London. Currently, Founder and CEO, SpotOne Global Solutions. Founder or Co-Founder of many ventures aiming to support the development of Africans, including: Spot1mentoring, a mentoring and business accelerator, and Africa Gathering, a platform bringing entrepreneurs and others together to share ideas for positive change in Africa. Created the Jjiguene Tech Hub in Senegal, the first women tech innovation network supporting young women in science, technology, engineering and maths. Council Member, Microsoft 4AfriKa team. Young Global Leader, World Economic Forum. Named one of 20 youngest power women in Africa, Forbes (2012); nominated one of the African women to watch in 2013, Guardian African Community Network; named one of Africa's top 25 women achievers, The Guardian.	United Kingdom
	Mohit Joshi, Executive Vice-President and Global Head, Financial Services, Infosys Ltd Mohit Joshi is Executive Vice-President and Head of the Financial Services practice at Infosys. He holds additional responsibility for Infosys operations in Brazil and Mexico. Joshi has over 18 years of professional experience working in the US, India, Mexico and Europe. His area of expertise lies in the intersection of financial services and technology. He joined Infosys in 2000 and has since worked in different capacities. In his previous role, he was responsible for leading the Financial Services practice in Europe. In 2007, Joshi was appointed as Chief Executive Officer of Infosys Mexico and was instrumental in setting up the first subsidiary in Latin America. He has previously worked in India with ABN AMRO and ANZ Grindlays in their corporate and investment banks. Joshi holds an MBA from the Faculty of Management Studies at Delhi University and a BA in History from St Stephen's College, Delhi.	United Kingdom
	Peter Lacy, Managing Director, Accenture Strategy, Accenture Peter Lacy is Managing Director of Strategy and Sustainability Services for Accenture in the Asia-Pacific region. Among other non-executive roles, he sits on the boards of the European Academy of Business in Society, University of Nottingham Business School, University of Cranfield Doughty Centre, Corporate Governance Journal and Ethical Corporation. He is an Adviser to the UN Global Compact and was a founding signatory of the UN Principles for Responsible Management Education. Lacy has spent more than a decade advising leaders from business, government and civil society on sustainability and climate change policy, strategy and execution during spells at Accenture, McKinsey & Company and EABIS. He is a Business Fellow at Oxford University's Smith School of Economics and Environment. Lacy is also an alumnus of INSEAD, Nottingham and Cambridge Universities.	United Kingdom
	Francesca McDonagh, General Manager, Head, Retail Banking and Wealth Management, HSBC Bank Plc Francesca McDonagh is the Head of Retail Banking and Wealth Management for HSBC in the UK. She is responsible for all aspects of customer service, channels, products and segments of HSBC's retail business for HSBC, M&S Bank and First Direct. From 2011-13 she was the Regional Head of Retail Banking and Wealth Management for HSBC in the Middle East and North Africa. Prior to this, Francesca led Personal Financial Services for HSBC in Hong Kong, the Bank's most profitable market. Francesca joined HSBC in 1997 and has held a number of	United Kingdom

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	senior roles with HSBC in Panama, Mexico and Indonesia. She has also worked in investment banking in the UK and Egypt. Francesca is a member of the MasterCard Advisory Board for Europe and was previously on the Middle East Board. Francesca is also a member of the World Economic Forum of Young Global Leaders, Class of 2014. She holds a Bachelor of Administration (Honours) from the University of Oxford in Philosophy, Politics and Economics.
	Rain Newton-Smith, Director of Economics, Confederation of British Industry (CBI) Rain Newton-Smith is Head of Emerging Markets at Oxford Economics, with a specialization in economic development in China and other rapidly growing economies. Prior, she also worked at the Bank of England, working in various roles for the Monetary Policy Committee. She was seconded to the International Monetary Fund in Washington DC in 2004, where her speciality was economic development in the Middle East and global financial stability. In 2010, Newton-Smith was selected as one of Management Today's 35 Women Under 35. She studied as an economist reading Philosophy, Politics and Economics at Trinity College, Oxford University, and has a Master's degree in Economics from the London School of Economics.	United Kingdom
	Kitty Parry, Chief Executive Officer, Templars Kitty Parry is Founder and Chief Executive Officer of the ground-breaking Social Media Charter (SMC), which unlocks the potential for responsible social media use in financial services. The SMC's mission is to bring together corporates, regulators and customers via barrister-led training, monitoring of customer complaints, cross-departmental insights and industry benchmarking. Parry set up her first business at 16, Templars Communications at 25 and the Accelerating Change Network at 27. She also sits on the board of the charity Nexus, which helps match younger wealth holders with social entrepreneurs. Parry has been recognized as the Network She Young Business Women of the Year 2013 and shortlisted PR Consultant of the Year 2009.	United Kingdom
	Rani Raad, Executive Vice-President and Chief Commercial Officer, CNN International Rani R. Raad is Executive Vice-President at CNN International, responsible for the commercial strategy and vision for an international news and information portfolio that includes CNNI, CNN en Español, the joint ventures CNN-IBN, CNN Turk and CNN Chile, with oversight of advertising sales, content sales, business development, international research and marketing activities. Raad also manages Turner Broadcasting's portfolio of general entertainment and kids channels in Turkey, the Middle East and Africa. He earned a BSc in Television Radio Film Management from the SI Newhouse School of Public Communication at Syracuse University in New York.	United Kingdom
	Stefan Reichenbach, Global Head, Market Insight, Financial, Thomson Reuters Stefan Reichenbach is the Global Head of Commodities Research & Forecasts at Thomson Reuters. His team of close to 100 analysts develops predictive research and models that help commodities professionals take a view of the future. Prior to this role, Reichenbach held a number of positions with Thomson Reuters, including leading its commodities strategy, acquisitions and start-ups, and building the Thomson Reuters Environmental Markets business. In a volunteer capacity, Reichenbach has worked on education initiatives with several universities and has been a board member and adviser to not-for-profit and boutique financial advisory organizations focused on incubating and financing clean technologies and clean infrastructure. He holds an MA in Economics from the University of Cambridge and an MSc in Environmental Change and Management from the University of Oxford.	United Kingdom

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Robyn Scott, Co-Founder, Brothers for All Robyn Scott is Co-Founder and Managing Director of OneLeap, which connects pioneering entrepreneurs and social entrepreneurs to the world's leading organizations. She is also Co-Founder of Mothers for All, which teaches income-generation and business skills to AIDS orphan caregivers, and Co-Founder of Brothers for All, which works with inmates and former inmates in South Africa to help them become positive agents of change in their communities and get back into dignified work, including coding. Scott's first book, "Twenty Chickens for a Saddle", was an acclaimed memoir about growing up in Botswana against the AIDS epidemic. Her second book, which she is currently writing, is the true story of maximum-security prisoners in South Africa who have changed their lives by adopting orphans. Scott is an Ambassador for the Access to Medicine Index. She has a BSc in Bioinformatics from Auckland University and an MPhil in Bioscience Enterprise (Distinction) from Cambridge University, where she was a Gates Scholar.	United Kingdom
	Davide Serra, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Algebris Investments (UK) LLP Davide Serra is Founding and Managing Partner of Algebris Investments (UK), a boutique assets management company specializing in the financial sector globally. Established in 2006, the firm manages approximately US$ 1 billion, investing in global financials, equity and credit. Serra is also Chairman and Trustee of the Hakuna Matata Foundation, which he founded with his wife in April 2011. The foundation's main focus is supporting orphanages in central Tanzania. Previously, Serra was a Managing Director at Morgan Stanley where he headed the European Banks Research Team and was the Global Banks Team Coordinator. Before joining Morgan Stanley, he worked at UBS where he won major surveys, including Institutional Investor and Extel from 1998 to 2000. Serra is a graduate cum laude of Bocconi University in Italy and holds a CEMS Master's degree.	United Kingdom
	Serpil Timuray, Regional Chief Executive Officer, Africa, Middle East and Asia-Pacific and Member of the Executive Committee, Vodafone Group Plc Serpil Timuray, Chief Executive, Africa, Middle East and Asia Pacific Region, joined the Executive Committee on 1 January 2014. Serpil joined Vodafone as Chief Executive of Vodafone Turkey in January 2009 and was appointed as a Director on the Board of Vodacom Group in South Africa in September 2012. She was appointed to the Boards of Vodafone India, Vodafone Hutchison Australia, Safaricom Kenya in November 2013, Vodafone Egypt in January 2014 and Vodafone Qatar in June 2014. Serpil was previously General Manager of Danone Turkey from 2002-2008. She began her career in 1991 in marketing at Procter & Gamble where she was later appointed to the Executive Committee of Procter & Gamble Turkey. Serpil is currently the Chairperson of the Board of YASED (International Investors Association), Vice-Chairperson of the Board of DEIK-TIİK (Turkish-British Business Council of Foreign Economic Relations), a Board Member of TOBB-GGK (Young Entrepreneurs Council of Turkish Union of Chambers and Commodity Exchanges) and sits on the Board of Trustees at Koc University, Turkey.	United Kingdom
	Daniella Ballou-Aares, Senior Adviser for Development to the US Secretary of State, US Department of State BSc in Operations Research and Industrial Engineering, Cornell University; MPA, Kennedy School of Government, Harvard; MBA, Harvard Business School. Former: Consultant, Bain & Company, US, UK and South Africa; Regional Director, Americas, Dalberg Global Development Advisors, instrumental in building the organization from start-up to global firm and led the firm's North and South American offices. Advised leading foundations, international agencies, companies and NGOs on strategies to increase their impact on development. Currently, Senior Adviser for Development to the US Secretary of State. Member, Council on Foreign Relations. Fellow, International Rescue Committee, Liberia.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	David Boehmer, Regional Managing Partner, Financial Services, Heidrick & Struggles David Boehmer is the Regional Managing Partner of the Americas for Heidrick & Struggles' financial services practice. The practice is made up of preeminent leadership search and advisory consultants in the region, with a range of expertise across the banking, investment management, insurance and payments sectors. Previously, he was Head of Financial Services Infrastructure for the Americas, made up of teams focused on such functional areas as finance, risk, legal, compliance, technology, operations, audit, human resources and marketing. Boehmer was also a Managing Associate with an executive search firm. Before joining the firm in 2001, he served with Egon Zehnder International where he was a member of the firm's technology and telecommunications practice. Boehmer received a BA in Political Science from Yale University. He is an active Board Member of the Komera Project, a not-for-profit focused on supporting girl's education and leadership development in Rwanda. He also serves as a Big Brother in the Big Brothers Big Sisters organization.	USA
	Devry Boughner Vorwerk, Vice-President, Corporate Affairs, Cargill Incorporated Dual degree, Ag. Econ. and Managerial Econ. Univ. of California, Davis; MSc, Ag. Econ., specialization in Public Policy and Int'l Trade, Cornell. Formerly: Economic Adviser to the Chairman, Office of Industries, USITC; Senior Economist, Agricultural Affairs, USTR. 2004, joined Cargill; 8 yrs in Asia-Pacific trade and investment portfolio, incl. in India and China; currently resp. for global government relations, directing Corp. Affairs, Latin America, and managing int'l trade policy agenda. Member: Board, Alliance to End Hunger and Business Council for Global Dev.; Advisory Board, Univ. of California Agricultural Issues Center, Cornell University Dyson School Advisory Council. Term Member, Council on Foreign Relations. Arthur Page Society Future Leader. Young Global Leader, World Economic Forum (2014).	USA
	Leah Busque, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, TaskRabbit Inc. Leah Busque is the Founder and CEO of TaskRabbit. Since bootstrapping TaskRabbit in 2008, Leah has expanded the company internationally, raised nearly $40 million in venture funding, and inspired legions of startups to launch in the Collaborative and Service Networking space. Named one of Fast Company's "100 Most Creative People in Business," her achievements have been featured in the Wall Street Journal, Wired, and Time. Under her leadership, TaskRabbit was named "The Next Big Thing in Tech" by the New York Times. Prior to founding TaskRabbit, Leah was a Software Engineer at IBM, working in the Messaging and Collaboration Software Development Group. Leah lives in San Mateo with her husband, TaskRabbit's VP of Technology Kevin Busque, her daughter, and a cuddly black lab named Emerson. She graduated Magna Cum Laude from Sweet Briar College, where she earned a B.S. in Mathematics and Computer Science.	USA
	Wences Casares, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Xapo Wences Casares is a technology entrepreneur with global business experience specializing in technology and financial ventures. He is Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Lemon Wallet. Casares launched Argentina's first Internet service provider, Internet Argentina in 1994, a company he would go on to sell in order to found the Argentine online brokerage Patagon in 1997. With Casares serving as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Patagon established itself as Latin America's first comprehensive Internet financial services portal and expanded its online banking services to the US, Spain and Germany. Patagon was acquired by Spanish bank Banco Santander for US$ 750 million in 2000. Casares is also the founder of Wanako Games, a videogame developer that produced the award-winning game Assault Heroes, which was honoured as "Game of the Year" for Microsoft Xbox Live in 2006; the company was acquired by Activision. In 2002, he founded Banco Lemon, a retail bank for the underbanked in Brazil. Banco do Brasil, Brazil's largest bank, acquired Banco Lemon in June 2009.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Rachael Chong, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Catchafire Rachael Chong is the Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Catchafire, the world's leading online skills-based volunteer platform. Catchafire's scalable solutions enable non-profits to specify and obtain the expertise they need and allows professionals to find the best way to apply their skills to the causes they are passionate about. By providing a better solution to non-profits and professionals, Catchafire is amplifying both social impact and professional satisfaction and growth. Chong has been named one of Fast Company's Most 100 Creative People in Business and received the NYC Venture Fellowship and the Tribeca Disruptive Innovation Award. She has also presented at two TEDx events. Prior to Catchafire, Chong helped to start up BRAC USA, the US affiliate of BRAC, a Bangladesh-based international development organization focused on poverty alleviation. She also worked at UBS Investment Bank after graduating from Barnard College at Columbia University. Chong has a Masters of Public Policy from Duke University.	USA
	Jared Cohen, Director, Google Ideas; Adviser to the Executive Chairman, Google Jared Cohen is Founder and Director of Google Ideas and an adviser to the Executive Chairman at Google. He is also an Adjunct Senior Fellow at the Council on Foreign. Prior, Cohen was a member of the US Secretary of State's Policy Planning Staff and served as an adviser to Condoleezza Rice and Hillary Clinton. Cohen is the author of four books. His most recent one, The New Digital Age: Transforming Nations, Business, and our Lives, co-authored with Google Executive Chairman Eric Schmidt, made it to the New York Times Best Seller list. In 2013, Cohen was named as one of TIME's 100 most influential people in the world, and Foreign Policy listed him as one of the "Top 100 Global Thinkers". Cohen serves as a member of the National Counterterrorism Center's (NCTC) Director's Advisory Board. He also serves on the Board of Directors of SFX Entertainment and the Tribeca Film Institute. Cohen received a BA from Stanford University and an MPhil in International Relations from the University of Oxford, where he studied as a Rhodes Scholar.	USA
	Daniel Cruise, Corporate Vice-President, Business Development and Global Affairs; Member of the Executive Council, Alcoa Inc. Degree, Brown Univ.; MPhil in Int'l Relations, Univ. of Cambridge. Formerly: Director, Public Affairs, National Security Council; White House Assistant Press Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Clinton Admin.; with Int'l Trade Admin, Dept of Commerce; with JP Morgan. With Alcoa: resp. for int'l business dev., incl. M&A, joint ventures and divestitures; oversees Government and Public Affairs practice worldwide. Chairman of the Board, National Security Network. Member of the Board: National Assoc. of Manufacturers; Alcoa Foundation. Member, Council on Foreign Relations.	USA
	Michael Drexler, Senior Director, Head of Investors Industries, World Economic Forum USA Michael Drexler is a Senior Director at the World Economic Forum based in New York, where he oversees the community of institutional and private investors. He joined the Forum after nine years at Barclays, where he most recently was Managing Director and Global Head of Strategy, Commercial/Investment Banking and Wealth Management. At Barclays, he also held positions in Principal Investments and Finance as well as Chief of Staff to the Chairman. He joined Barclays Capital in 2002 from McKinsey & Company. Prior to that, Drexler was an academic researcher at Stanford University. He holds a PhD in Mathematics from the University of Oxford and an MSc in Electronic Engineering from the Technical University at Munich.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Marcela Escobari, Executive Director, Center for International Development, Harvard University Marcela Escobari is the Executive Director of Harvard University's Center for International Development, setting centre's strategic direction and leading initiatives that foster prosperity in developing countries. As head of the Americas region at the OTF Group (a spin-off of Monitor Group), she advised governments on how to increase export competitiveness and harness the private sector to eradicate poverty. She also advised the president of the Dominican Republic on the country's industrial policy, the government of Colombia on revitalizing its tourism industry, and the Jamaican entertainment and tourism industries on increasing their earning potential. She began her career as a Mergers & Acquisitions banker at JP Morgan in New York. Escobari currently serves on the board of Root Capital, an organization financing rural development. She co-authored the book "In the River They Swim: Essays from around the World on Enterprise Solutions to Poverty". She holds a BA in Economics from Swarthmore College and an MA in Public Policy from the Harvard Kennedy School.	USA
	V. R. Ferose, Senior Vice-President, Globalization Services, SAP Labs LLC V. R. Ferose is Managing Director of SAP Labs India, responsible for research and development based in India. He drives innovation, customer-focused initiatives and delivers operational efficiencies at SAP Labs facilities. At the age of 33, he was one of the youngest managing directors of a global multinational in India. Ferose is also a Member of the IT Vision Group of Karnataka and a Member of the Development Advisory Board of HOPE worldwide in India, and he is actively involved with multiple non-profits in the education, disability and social entrepreneurial space. Ferose is Co-Founder of the World Economic Forum's Global Shapers Karnataka Hub, with a vision of creating opportunities for youth in Karnataka. He graduated from the National Institute of Technology in Warangal, India, in 1997 with a degree in Computer Science and Engineering. He is a regular speaker in academia and several industry forums.	USA
	James Gifford, Senior Fellow, Initiative for Responsible Investment, Harvard University James Gifford is a Senior Research Fellow at the Initiative for Responsible Investment at the Harvard Kennedy School, where he researches sustainable investment in emerging markets and delivering positive impact within mainstream investment strategies. He is also a Senior Strategic Adviser for Tau Investment Management, a turnaround fund that invests in unsustainable apparel and textile companies and transforms them into sustainable and ethical enterprises. He was the founding Executive Director of the UN-supported Principles for Responsible Investment, taking the initiative from inception in 2003 and building it, over 10 years, into the pre-eminent global initiative on responsible investment with 1,200 signatories representing US$ 30 trillion in assets. He has published numerous articles and book chapters on responsible investment. James has a PhD from the University of Sydney on the effectiveness of shareholder engagement in improving corporate environmental, social and governance performance, degrees in Commerce and Law, and a Master's in Environment Management. He speaks Indonesian and has established an NGO that supports young Indonesians to enter university.	USA
	Gita Gopinath, Professor of Economics, Harvard University Gita Gopinath is a professor at the economics department of Harvard University. She received her PHD from Princeton University. Her ground-breaking research is helping economists get a better understanding of the financial crisis in Greece and Iceland. Professor Gopinath has recently been named tenured professor at Harvard University's economics department and she thus becomes the third woman ever and the first Indian after Nobel laureate Amartya Sen to receive such as outstanding honour.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Sam Gregory, Programme Director, WITNESS Sam Gregory helps people use the power of the moving image and participatory technologies to create human rights change. He is Program Director at WITNESS, a leading organization that supports people to use video for human rights, running their Cameras Everywhere initiative, which focuses on empowering millions of people to use video effectively, safely and ethically. Gregory recently launched the Human Rights Channel on YouTube. The ObscuraCam project he oversees was included in Wired UK's top 25 ideas for 2012. Gregory was a 2010 Rockefeller Foundation Bellagio Resident on the future of video-based advocacy. He speaks and writes widely on human rights and new technologies, focusing on citizen media as powerful human rights evidence, and promoting new understandings of anonymity in visual media. He has worked on impactful campaigns worldwide, particularly in South-East Asia and Latin America, created innovative training programmes and teaches at the Harvard Kennedy School. Gregory has an MA in Public Policy from the Harvard Kennedy School, attending as a Kennedy Memorial Scholar.	USA
	Jeremy Heimans, Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Purpose Jeremy Heimans is Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Purpose, a social enterprise that mobilizes millions of citizens and consumers to help solve major global problems. In 2004, he co-founded an advocacy group during the US presidential elections that ran a highly publicized online and media campaign. In 2005, he co-founded GetUp.org, an Australian political movement and internationally recognized social movement phenomenon. In 2007, he co-founded Avaaz.org, the world's largest online citizens' movement, with 24 million members. He began his career with McKinsey & Company. Heimans' work has been recognized in numerous publications, including The Economist and The New York Times. In 2011, he was the recipient of the Ford Foundation's 75th Anniversary Visionary Award. He was educated at Harvard University and the University of Sydney.	USA
	Priya Hiranandani-Vandrevala, Founder, H Living Inc. Priya Hiranandani-Vandrevala is an entrepreneur, investor and philanthropist with interests in real estate and technology. She is currently Founder and Chairman of Hirco Group, one of India's largest developers of premium residential real estate. Priya spent her early years with Arthur Andersen. Subsequently, she trained in sales and marketing at the Hiranandani Group. In 2002, she founded Zenta, a business process outsourcing firm serving blue chip financial institutions. As Founder and CEO she grew Zenta into one of the top ten BPOs in India. In 2006, Priya co-founded Hirco which at the time of its listing on the AIM in London was the biggest real estate IPO on that market. The company is currently invested in mixed use developments totaling 66 million sq. ft. Priya is Chairman of the Steering Board for the real estate community of the World Economic Forum. Priya heads the Vandrevalla Foundation, a social enterprise active especially in support of mental health. She is also a Patron of the Elephant Family and a Chartered Accountant. Priya is a post-graduate from Mumbai University.	USA
	Tom Hulme, General Partner, Google Ventures Tom Hulme is Design Director of IDEO, a design and innovation consulting firm, Founder and Managing Director of OpenIDEO, an open innovation platform with over 51,000 users in 160 countries, and Founder and Managing Director of OIEngine.com, the SaaS product. The technology is used by corporates globally to manage their innovation challenges, usually with their employees. OpenIDEO won a 2011 Webby Award in the Community Category. After successfully exiting two start-ups, Hulme is an angel investor, with investments in such companies as Massive Health (sold to Jawbone), Cliqz, Y-Plan, GoCardless, Llustre (sold to FAB), Wonga, Fantasy Shopper, Smarkets, Yoomi and Qriously. He was listed in Wired magazine's top 100 "digital power brokers" in 2011 and 2012, and was listed as one of London's 1000 most influential people in 2012. Hulme earned a 1st class Bachelor's degree in Physics at the University of Bristol and an MBA from Harvard Business School, where he received the Baker Scholar Award of high distinction.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	David Karp, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Tumblr David Karp is the Founder and CEO of Tumblr, a short-form blogging platform. According to the MIT Technology Review TR35 he was amongst the 35 highest ranking innovators of the world below the age of 35. In August 2009, Karp was named Best Young Tech Entrepreneur 2009 by BusinessWeek. On May 20, 2013, it was announced that Yahoo! and Tumblr had reached an agreement for Yahoo! to acquire Tumblr for $1.1 billion. Karp would remain as CEO of the company.	USA
	Valerie Keller, Executive Director, Strategic Transformation, EY Valerie Keller has deep expertise in leadership, purpose-driven transformation and innovation. She leads strategic transformations for EY with global corporations. As a chief executive officer, she has established healthcare facilities, housing developments and social enterprises. Keller was also founder of Veritas and two US coalitions focused on housing and healthcare system reform. She has advised US Congressional Committees and facilitated public-private partnerships across businesses, government agencies and NGOs. Keller is a World Economic Forum Young Global Leader and recipient of JP Morgan Chase's 20 Under 40 and Change Agent Network's Humanitarian of the Year awards. She serves on the Harvard Kennedy School Women's Leadership Board and the advisory boards of Global Thinkers Forum, World Policy Institute and Womanity US. She holds an MBA with Distinction Honours from the University of Oxford and completed post-graduate work at the Harvard Business School and Harvard Kennedy School.	USA
	Max Levchin, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, HVF LLC A computer scientist, serial entrepreneur and angel investor, Max Levchin focuses on building and investing in enduring technology companies. Levchin co-founded PayPal and was its CTO, from founding through its acquisition by eBay. His latest undertaking, HVF, is an innovation lab, focused on solving big problems and improving lives by extracting insights from the vast quantities of recordable information around us. HVF launched its first project, Affirm, in early 2013, and its second project, Glow, at the end of May. Levchin currently serves as Chairman of the Boards of Directors of Yelp and Kaggle and a Director of Yahoo! and Evernote. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois in Urbana-Champaign.	USA
	Sheila Lirio Marcelo, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Care.com Degree in Economics, Mount Holyoke College; MBA and JD, Harvard University. Served as an executive at Internet companies Upromise and TheLadders.com. Founder, Care.com, the largest and fastest growing service used by families to find high-quality caregivers, from childcare to senior care to household services. Board Trustee, Philippine Development Foundation. Finalist Judge, Harvard Business School's annual Business Plan Competition and Adviser to the school's Rock Entrepreneurial Center. Has served on the International Selection Panel for Endeavor. 2009, recognized as a Top 10 Women Entrepreneurs, Fortune's Most Powerful Women Summit and one of the 40 under 40 executives, Boston Business Journal. Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year (2010) for New England. 2011, Marshall Memorial Fellowship and named Young Global Leader, World Economic Forum.	USA
	Ida Liu, Managing Director and Head of North America Asian Clients Group, Citi Private Bank Ida Liu is Managing Director and Head of the North America Asian Clients Group for Citi Private Bank, providing wealth management solutions and tailored investment strategies to ultra-high net worth individuals and families. Liu joined Citi from Vivienne Tam, a women's wear design house, where she was Global Head of Sales, Marketing, Public Relations and Business Development. Prior to this, she spent seven years in investment banking at Merrill Lynch. She started her career in M&As at BT Wolfensohn (now Deutsche Bank). Liu serves as a board member of Volunteers of America, an adviser to the Asia Foundation's Lotus Circle and is a member of the Wellesley College Business Leaders Counsel. She is the recipient of the 2011	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Top 50 Outstanding Asian Americans in Business, the 2011 Honoree for the Women's Venture Fund and the 2010 Emerging Leader Award from the National Association of Asian MBAs. Liu holds a BA with honours from Wellesley College and a Merrill Lynch Executive MBA from The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.
	Jessica Long, Managing Director, Accenture Development Partnerships Jessica Long is a Managing Director with Accenture and has over 15 years of national and international experience in strategy, programme delivery and technology within the corporate, government and development sectors. She is on the global leadership team of Accenture Development Partnerships, a not-for-profit group within Accenture that provides business and technology services to the international development sector. Long also leads Accenture Development Partnerships' suite of solutions across programme innovation and Impact, partnership services and organizational strengthening and enablement. She has led transformation and development projects for international NGOs, governments and multinational donors, with a focus on innovation, IT & growth strategy, shared value and collaborative partnerships. Long is the recipient of Accenture's Inspiring Leader Award, Innovation Award and Inventor's Award. Prior to Accenture, she worked in the Office of United States Senator Paul Wellstone of Minnesota on issues related to immigration and housing. She also teaches several times per year at Accenture Strategy College in St Charles, Illinois, and serves on the leadership council of Raise DC.	USA
	Marissa Mayer, President and Chief Executive Officer, Yahoo Marissa Mayer joined Yahoo! as President and Chief Executive Officer in July 2012. Prior to Yahoo!, she was Vice-President of Local, Maps and Location Services at Google. During 13 years at Google, Mayer held numerous positions, including as engineer, designer, product manager and executive, and launched more than 100 well-known features and products. She played an instrumental role in Google Search, leading the product management effort for more than 10 years. During this time, Google Search grew from a few hundred thousand to well over a billion searches per day. Previously, Mayer worked at the UBS Research Lab in Zurich, Switzerland, and at SRI International in Menlo Park, California. She serves on the Board of Directors of Wal-Mart, and is on the board of various non-profits, including the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art, the San Francisco Ballet and the New York City Ballet. Mayer graduated with Honours from Stanford University with a BS in Symbolic Systems and an MSc in Computer Science.	USA
	Gregory McKeown, Chief Executive Officer, THIS Inc. Greg McKeown is the Chief Executive Officer of THIS, a leadership and strategy design agency. He is also a writer, contributing frequently to the Harvard Business Review, and the co-author of the Wall Street Journal bestseller "Multipliers". McKeown is writing a new book on the skills and capabilities necessary for mastering complexity. McKeown received an MBA from Stanford University. He consults at Apple and is speaker at conferences and workshops around the world.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Sendhil Mullainathan, Professor of Economics, Harvard University Sendhil Mullainathan is a Professor of Economics at Harvard University. His real passion is behavioral economics. His work runs a wide gamut: the impact of poverty on mental bandwidth; whether CEO pay is excessive; using fictitious resumes to measure discrimination; showing that higher cigarette taxes makes smokers happier; modeling how competition affects media bias; and a model of coarse thinking. His latest research focuses on using machine learning and data mining techniques to better understand human behavior. He helped co-found a non-profit to apply behavioral science (ideas42), co-founded a center to promote the use of randomized control trials in development (the Abdul Latif Jameel Poverty Action Lab), serves on the board of the MacArthur Foundation, and has worked in government in various roles, including most recently as Assistant Director of Research at the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau.	USA
	Oliver Niedermaier, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Tau Investment Management Chairman and CEO of Tau Investment Management, a Private Equity firm established to transform global supply chains. Former Operating Partner, Advent Int'l. Previously Founder and CEO, DF King Worldwide. Member Global Exec. Board, Computershare, the world's largest share registry, which Oliver joined when it acquired Pepper Technologies. Founder, Pepper Technologies. Currently Non-Exec. Director, Equiniti, owned by Advent Int'l, UK. PhD in Strategic Mgmt, Univ. of Munich. 1998. Board memberships include The World Policy Institute and National Museum of the American Indian, both New York.	USA
	Julia Novy-Hildesley, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Resilience in Action Julia Novy-Hildesley is a Lecturer at Stanford University, teaching on the emergence of a sustainable economy and conservation and development dilemmas in the Amazon. As a leader of non-profit and philanthropic organizations, she has been responsible for over US$ 100 million in investment in innovation and social enterprise to advance sustainable development globally. She has served as a Clinton Global Initiative Topic Leader in 2010 and was part of the launch team for the Marine Stewardship Council. She has also served as Chief Executive Officer of Washington STEM, Executive Director of the Lemelson Foundation and Director of the World Wildlife Fund's Pacific Office, as well as on several boards, including the Harvard Women's Leadership Board, the World Affairs Council of Oregon and MIT's Innovations Journal. A Fulbright and Marshall Scholar, Novy-Hildesley has worked extensively in the developing world. She earned a BA in Human Biology from Stanford University with a Minor in African Studies and an MA in International Development from the Institute for Development Studies at Sussex University.	USA
	Courtney O'Donnell, Global Head, External Affairs, Airbnb Inc. Courtney O'Donnell is a communications executive with a record of developing integrated communications and outreach plans that deliver results. She has effectively raised the profile of groups, issues and products by providing strategic counsel that incorporates communications and marketing principles along with extensive media and public affairs expertise. O'Donnell has 14 years of experience in senior roles, including working at the White House, Fortune 500 corporations and some of the world's leading NGOs. She currently splits her time between New York City, Washington DC and Berlin as a consultant to several non-profit and corporate organizations.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Jill Otto, Vice-President, JP Morgan Jill Otto is a Vice President at J.P. Morgan's Global Investment Opportunities Group (GIO), which provides multi-asset class investment advice to clients in the US. Previously, she managed the Latin American subsidiaries of her family's 75-year old business, which included the world's largest waste logistics equipment company. Jill built her family's investment offices in Paris and Rio de Janeiro. She is a member of the Group of Fifty (G50), a select group of private company leaders from Latin America. In 2010, she was selected as a Young Global Leader of the World Economic Forum where she helped create the Family and Private Company Community. Jill received a Bachelor of Arts from Princeton University in 2002, a Master's from the School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University in 2004 and an MBA from Duke University in 2011. She is fluent in Portuguese, English, German, Spanish and French.	USA
	Ricken Patel, Executive Director, Avaaz.org Ricken Paten is Executive Director of Avaaz.org, a social platform which empowers millions of people from all walks of life to take action on pressing global, regional and national issues, from corruption and poverty to conflict and climate change. Patel was voted "Ultimate Gamechanger in Politics" by the Huffington Post, and listed in the world's top 100 thinkers by Foreign Policy magazine. He was also listed as one of People Magazine's most eligible bachelors. Patel studied Philosophy, Politics and Economics (PPE) at Balliol College, Oxford, where he helped organize against the 1998 introduction of tuition fees. He graduated first in his university class, and held leadership roles in student government and student activism. He has a Masters in Public Policy from Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government, where (mirroring his activism at Oxford) he helped lead the campus' highly publicized living wage campaign.	USA
	David Rhodes, President, CBS News David Rhodes is President of CBS News where he oversees CBS news broadcasts, including the CBS Evening News, CBS This Morning and Face the Nation. He also directs newsgathering for all platforms. Prior, Rhodes was head of US Television at Bloomberg and Vice-President of News at the Fox News Channel. He has also been named to the power lists of Fortune, Crain's New York Business, The Hollywood Reporter and GQ. Rhodes holds a Bachelor of Arts in Economics and Political Science from Rice University.	USA
	Alexis Ringwald, Chief Executive Officer and Co-Founder, LearnUp, Inc. Alexis Ringwald is Chief Executive Officer and Co-Founder of LearnUp, a job training platform for entry-level jobseekers. She started the company after spending six months in America's unemployment offices researching the education and jobs crisis. Prior to LearnUp, she co-founded Valence Energy, an energy efficiency software start-up, which was acquired by Serious Energy in 2010. Ringwald lived in India for three years as a US Fulbright Scholar, where she co-directed a Climate Solutions Road Tour driving across India in solar electric cars in 2009. She is a Forbes "30 Under 30" and Fast Company's "Most Influential Women in Tech". Ringwald completed a BA and MA in Engineering Management from Yale University.	USA
	April Rinne, Adviser, Sharing Economy Shareable Cities April Rinne is a sharing economy expert, advising companies, local and national governments, entrepreneurs, think tanks, investors and development banks, using for-profit and non-profit models. She currently leads the World Economic Forum/Young Global Leaders Sharing Economy Working Group and serves on the urbanization advisory group. Previously, Rinne was Chief Strategy Officer at Collaborative Lab, Global Director of WaterCredit at Water.org, and a private lawyer focusing on international microfinance and impact investing. She advises numerous social enterprises, ranging from BOP marketplace creation to alternative currencies, in developed and developing countries. Rinne serves on the Sharing Economy Advisory Boards for Seoul, South Korea, and the National League of Cities. She is also a Director of the World	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Wide Web Foundation and a Member of REX. Rinne holds a JD from Harvard Law School, an MA from The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University and a BA from Emory University.
	David G. Rosenberg, Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer, AeroFarms David Rosenberg is Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer of AeroFarms, a clean-technology company that builds and operates advanced vertical farms in urban environments. He is also Co-Founder of Hycrete, a cleantech nanotechnology company leading in waterproofing and corrosion control solutions for concrete construction. Rosenberg is Chairman of the Board of Advisers of the software company AgSquared, a venture adviser to the Russian cleantech venture capital fund of Wermuth Asset Management, and is a Board Member of the non-profit organization, the Ecologic Sequestration Trust. He is also an Adjunct Professor, teaching venture capital financing at NYU's Stern School of Business. Rosenberg received his BA from UNC-Chapel Hill and an MBA from Columbia University. He competed for the US in Fencing for six years and is a three-time US National Fencing Champion.	USA
	Pardis Sabeti, Associate Professor, Harvard FAS Center for Systems Biology Pardis Sabeti is an Associate Professor at the Center for Systems Biology at Harvard University, and a Senior Associate Member of the Broad Institute of MIT and Harvard. She is a computational geneticist with expertise in developing algorithms to detect genetic signatures of adaption in humans and the microbial organisms that infect humans. Her works focus on the Ebola and Lassa viruses, Plasmodium falciparum malaria and vibrio cholera. Sabeti completed her undergraduate degree at MIT, her PhD as a Rhodes Scholar at University of Oxford and her MD as a Soros Fellow at Harvard Medical School, where she was only the third woman to graduate summa cum laude. Her work is supported by a Burroughs Wellcome Fund Career Award, a Packard Foundation Fellowship, an NIH Innovator award and awards from NIAID, DTRA and the Gates Foundation. She is on the National Academy of Sciences' Committee on Women in Science, Medicine and Engineering, and is also the lead singer of the rock band, Thousand Days.	USA
	Aymeric Sallin, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, NanoDimension Aymeric Sallin is the Founder and Chief Executive Officer of NanoDimension, a nanotechnology-focused venture capital firm with offices in Menlo Park, California and Zurich, Switzerland. Since 2002, Sallin has actively promoted nanotechnology around the world, receiving the NSTI Fellow Award and 2012 EPFL Alumni award for "his entrepreneurial spirit, his dedication and exceptional contribution to the field of nanotechnology". Recognized as a nanotechnology and innovation leader, he works closely with the business, government and academic communities. He was instrumental in generating, negotiating and closing several hundred millions of dollars of funding in several of NanoDimension's portfolio companies. Sallin was voted top 20 under 40 in Switzerland by Bilan Magazine and one of Switzerland's 300 most influential people in 2011, 2012 and 2013. He holds an MA in Physical Engineering from EPFL.	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Bruno Sánchez-Andrade Nuño, Innovation Labs Data Scientist, The World Bank Bruno Sánchez-Andrade Nuño is Chief Scientist at Mapbox, a start-up focused on widening the impact of open data, maps and satellite imaging. Prior to Mapbox, he was Director of Science and Technology at GAIN, an NGO bringing open data to measure climate change adaptation challenges. Sánchez-Andrade Nuño has more than 10 years of international experience as a published author and speaker on science and technology outreach, and serves on various boards of technology companies and climate change initiatives. He has also worked with NASA satellites and space rockets. Sánchez-Andrade Nuño was a Mirzayan Fellow of the US National Academies of Sciences and a Member of AEGEE (European Students Forum). He earned a PhD in Astrophysics from the Max Planck Institute.	USA
	Dan Senor, Senior Adviser, Elliott Management Corporation Studies at the University, Western Ontario and Hebrew University, Jerusalem; MBA graduate, Harvard Business School. Formerly: with Carlyle Group; co-founded Rosemont Capital; Pentagon adviser to US Central Command, Qatar; foreign policy and communications adviser to US Senate; one of longest-serving civilian officials in Iraq during administration of George W Bush; 2008, Senior Foreign Policy Adviser to Governor Mitt Romney, during presidential election. Currently, Senior Adviser and investor, Elliott Associates. Adjunct Senior Fellow, Council on Foreign Relations. Co-Author, Start-Up Nation: The Story of Israel's Economic Miracle (2009). Recipient of Distinguished Civilian Service Award, Pentagon.	USA
	Shamina Singh, Executive Director, MasterCard Center for Inclusive Growth, MasterCard Shamina Singh is Vice-President for Government Services and Solutions at MasterCard Worldwide, working with governments and public sector stakeholders to leverage MasterCard technology to transition public programmes from paper to electronic, and addressing global issues such as financial inclusion and transparency. Prior to joining MasterCard, Singh headed Government and Public Affairs for Nike and spent five years with Citigroup's Global Community Development Group. Over the course of 15 years in the public sector, she held senior positions within the Clinton Administration, the US House of Representatives, electoral campaigns and national non-profit organizations. Singh is a former Member of the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on the US, a Henry Crown Fellow with the Aspen Institute and served on US President Barack Obama's Advisory Commission on Military Leadership Diversity.	USA
	E. Benjamin Skinner, Co-Founder and Senior Vice-President, Tau Investment Management E. Benjamin Skinner is Senior-Vice President at Tau Investment Management. He is also the author of "A Crime So Monstrous: Face-to-Face with Modern-Day Slavery", which was awarded a citation from the Overseas Press Club in its book category. In his career as a writer studying the US and global political economies, with a focus on modern-day slavery, he became the first person to observe negotiations for the sale of human beings on four continents, and was named one of National Geographic's "Adventurers of the Year 2008." Skinner previously served as Special Assistant to Ambassador Richard Holbrooke and as a Research Associate for US Foreign Policy at the Council on Foreign Relations. His articles have appeared in Time, Bloomberg Businessweek, Travel + Leisure, the Los Angeles Times, The Miami Herald, Foreign Affairs, Foreign Policy and others. He received his BA from Wesleyan University in the US.	USA
	Lorna Solis, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Blue Rose Compass Lorna Solis is Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Blue Rose Compass, an organization providing young adults (especially girls) living in refugee camps with scholarships to leading universities globally and jobs through data outsourcing projects; Blue Rose Compass fellows return to their region or work in a company that works in that region to serve as agents of change. Previously, Solis was Director for Latin America & Africa at Institutional Investor for 14 years. She worked at IDEA on Wall Street, covering Latin America, and at Water & Air Research, an environmental consulting firm where she helped establish national parks in Brazil	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	and Honduras. Solis was a Member of the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on Women's Empowerment in 2011, 2012 Echoing Green Semi-Finalist, UNHCR Innovation Council Board Member, and Advisory Board Member of the Humanitarian Innovation Project at the Refugee Studies Centre at the University of Oxford. She is a graduate of the University of Florida and Harvard Kennedy School's Global Leadership & Public Policy Executive Program.
	Lucian Tarnowski, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, BraveNewTalent.com Lucian Tarnowski is Founder and Chief Executive Officer of BraveNewTalent, the social learning platform where organizations create communities to engage and develop their existing and future workforce. Through BraveNewTalent, Tarnowski is on a mission to democratize access to professional life-long learning. He speaks frequently to audiences around the world about the convergence of talent and technology and its impact on the future of the global workforce and education. BraveNewTalent was recognised by JMP Securities as one of the world's "hot 100 privately owned technology companies", while Tarnowski has been recognized for his entrepreneurial efforts, including winning the Global Enterprising Young Brit award. He has always been passionate about youth leadership and supported the launch of One Young World in 2010. Tarnowski also runs Take Heart India, a vocational education charity that provides blind and handicapped students in rural India with the employment skills that guarantee them jobs for life.	USA
	Dylan E. Taylor, Chief Operating Officer, Global, Colliers International Dylan Taylor is Chief Executive Officer in the Americas for Colliers International, the world's third largest commercial real estate firm with more than 15,000 employees in 62 countries and revenues of US$ 2 billion. Taylor has extensive global experience in commercial real estate, and is recognized for his expertise and innovation in operational integration, corporate real estate services, outsourcing, and global business and client engagement strategies. The breadth of his knowledge has led to appearances on Bloomberg TV and CNBC. Taylor was selected as a Delphi Fellow for Big Think, a digital knowledge forum that brings together top thinkers from around the globe to contribute important ideas from their respective fields. He is the only real estate industry professional to receive this designation. He is also Chairman Emeritus of the March of Dimes and serves on the Board of the Kempe Foundation for Child Abuse and Neglect. Taylor has an MBA from the University of Chicago and a BA with Honours in Engineering.	USA
	Adam Werbach, Co-Founder, yerdle Adam Werbach is Co-Founder of yerdle, a new social marketplace that makes it easy to share goods with friends. He was also the Founder of Act Now, which was acquired by Saatchi & Saatchi and the Publicis Groupe, where he served as Chief Sustainability Officer. At age 23, Werbach was elected President of the Sierra Club, the oldest and largest grassroots environmental organization in the US. His latest book, "Strategy for Sustainability", published by Harvard Business Press, was named one of the Best Business Books of the Year by Fast Company Magazine. He serves as sustainability correspondent for TheAtlantic.com. Werbach is a graduate of Brown University.	USA
	Ted Wiley, Founder and Executive, Aquion Energy Ted Wiley is the Vice-President of Product and Corporate Strategy at Aquion Energy, a start-up that manufactures sustainable, cost-effective batteries for stationary energy storage applications. Wiley was a co-founder and the first full-time employee of Aquion in 2009. He is currently focused on partnering with wind and solar developers and integrators to deploy storage and renewable solutions that compete directly with fossil-based energy generation. Prior to Aquion, Wiley was a Senior Associate at Hudson Clean Energy Partners where he worked on biofuels and solar investments. Before Hudson, he served as a captain in the US	USA

World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2015

	Army. As a platoon leader for the 1-23 Infantry Battalion he spent a year in Iraq leading combat missions and helping to organize the country's first free elections. Wiley earned a BSc in Physics at Seattle University and an MBA from Harvard Business School with concentrations in clean technology entrepreneurship.
	Nathan D. Wolfe, Chief Executive Officer and Founder, Metabiota Nathan Wolfe is a virologist who fights pandemics. Wolfe has published extensively and his work has appeared in or been covered by Nature, Science, The New York Times, The Economist and Forbes, among others. He has received support of over US$ 30 million from Google.org, the NIH, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, Merck and the US Department of Defense. Wolfe was awarded the prestigious NIH Director's Pioneer Award and is currently a National Geographic Emerging Explorer. He was also named one of Time Magazine's 100 Most Influential People in the World for 2011, and was recognized as one of Popular Science's "Brilliant 10", and Rolling Stone's "Top 100 Agents of Change". Wolfe received his bachelor's degree from Stanford University and his doctorate from Harvard University.	USA