PwC Press Conference: Repaving the ancient Silk Routes

This press conference focuses on how foreign companies can participate in China's Belt and Road (B&R) initiative, which is centred on infrastructure development in more than 65 countries spanning East and Central Asia, the subcontinent, Africa and Europe. With its unprecedented scale and potential impact on a population of 4.4 billion and one third of the global economy, there are numerous opportunities for foreign companies to get involved with their world class skills and expertise. However, the journey to success requires the consideration of various key factors to enable companies to navigate through geopolitical, funding and operational complexities unique to B&R projects.
