Greener Davos Initiative

At the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2013, the Forum is pursuing the Greener Davos initiative, which was introduced three years ago to address participants' concerns about the environmental impact of the Annual Meeting. To do so, the Forum is working on the reduction of CO₂ emissions and resource consumption.

The Greener Davos initiative aims to lower the amount of pollutants released into the environment by the over 2,600 participants and staff travelling from Zurich to and within Davos and Klosters. An important way to lower emissions is to not only reduce overall traffic, but also restrict circulation to vehicles fulfilling environmentally friendly conditions.

To support the Greener Davos initiative and to receive a Greener Davos sticker to access the Congress Centre (security car sticker needed), Hotel Belvédère and Hotel Seehof, the following requirements must be respected from Tuesday 22 January to Sunday 27 January:

Limousine

CO ₂ emission rate	Maximum 191 g/km
Fuel consumption	Maximum 9 l/100 km
Energy tag	Category D or lower

Van (vehicles with 6-9 seats)

CO ₂ emission rate	Maximum 235g/km
-------------------------------	-----------------

Vehicles with a capacity of more than nine seats (10+) are not subject to these requirements.

Green signage throughout Davos indicates the walking time and distance from one location to another, and shoe grips will be distributed by the Forum to all participants to facilitate their transfer on foot between the Congress Centre and the hotels. Walking is the fastest way to commute in Davos and will also help to reduce the amount of traffic during the Annual Meeting.

1. Before Leaving for Davos-Klosters

1.1 Facts about Davos and Klosters

Davos is a mountain resort with a population of 13,000, nestled at 1,560 metres (5,118 feet) in the canton of Graubünden (also known in English as the Grisons). Originally known as a health resort, Davos has been attracting avid skiers for decades and has gained recognition as the venue of the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting.

The town is divided into Davos Platz and Davos Dorf, with the busier Platz being where most of the hotels and shops are located, and the low-key Dorf where most of the locals reside. In-between is the Congress Centre, the site of the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting.

Klosters lies at 1,206 metres (3,956 feet) and is only 14 kilometres (9 miles) from Davos. A drive from Klosters to the Congress Centre takes about 15 minutes.

1.1.1 Business Hours

Banks: Monday to Friday, 09.00 - 12.00 and 14.00 - 17.00

A cash dispenser (ATM) is available outside the Congress Centre on the Promenade Strasse.

Post Offices: Monday to Friday, 08.30 - 18.15; Saturday, 08.30 - 11.00

Shops: Monday to Friday, 08.30 - 12.00 and 14.00 - 18.30; Saturday, 08.30 - 16.00

Most shops are closed on Sunday.

1.1.2 Currency and Credit Cards

Swiss Francs (abbreviated "CHF" or sometimes "Sfr.")

Exchange rate on 5 December:

1 euro = CHF 1.21078

US$ 1 = CHF 0.92626

Most shops, restaurants, hotels and mountain transport installations accept the following credit cards: American Express, Diners, EuroCard/MasterCard and Visa

Currency exchange is available at the railway station, banks and hotels.

1.1.3 Electricity

220 V, 50 Hz

1.1.4 Language

German is the official language of Davos and Klosters. French, English and Italian are also widely spoken.

1.1.5 Temperature

Yearly average: 2.8°C (37.04°F)

During the Annual Meeting: from -4° C (24.8°F) to 1°C (33.8°F)

1.1.6 Time

Switzerland is one hour ahead of GMT/UTC.

1.1.7 Tipping

Gratuities in hotels and restaurants and for hairdressers and taxis are included in the price.

1.2 Special Airline Tickets

Swiss International Air Lines, the official carrier of the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting, is offering a 20% reduction on all fares in first class, a 30% reduction on all full fare and reduced fare flights in business class on all flights bearing a Swiss flight number, and a 20% reduction on all full fare flights in economy class on all flights bearing a Swiss flight number.

Please contact Executive Travel at info@e-travel.ch to benefit from these special rates.

1.3 Accommodation

PublicisLive, the official logistics provider of the World Economic Forum, is committed to providing participants in the Annual Meeting with the most professional service to secure the best available rooms and rates. PublicisLive should have contacted you upon registration. If you do not yet have accommodation, please contact them at:

Tel.: +41 (0)22 718 6464
Fax: +41 (0)22 736 6600
davos@publicislive.com

Please note that, due to the limited number of rooms available in Davos during the Annual Meeting, PublicisLive allocates only one hotel room to each registered participant. Should the hotel of your choice be fully booked, every effort will be made to find a suitable alternative accommodation.

To secure your reservation, your credit card will be charged 100% of the total amount of the five-night minimum stay. Cancellation of the hotel booking may be made until 31 December 2012 without penalty.

For any other information or request for assistance, please contact PublicisLive.

Bear in mind that, should you need further information regarding your hotel, you may consult the websites of the hotels or contact them directly (see page 18 for hotel information). Please note that the hotels will only be informed of your reservation one week in advance.

1.4 Packing and Dress Code

We encourage informality during the Annual Meeting; this is reflected in the dress code, which is sporty or business casual (no tie). Remember to bring rubber-soled snow boots and appropriate winter clothing, as streets can be slippery and temperatures in Davos can drop to well below freezing. Cocktail attire is required for the Soirée on Saturday evening.

1.5 Checklist

- Check that you have a valid passport and a visa if required. For information on visa requirements, contact your local Swiss consulate or embassy. Do not forget to bring your passport to registration.
- Make sure you have received your hotel accommodation confirmation from PublicisLive. For any questions about accommodation, please see paragraph 1.3.
- Take note of the telephone number of your World Economic Forum contact person.
- Visit the private area (private.weforum.org) and install the Forum meeting mobile apps (www.weforum.org/apps). The online platforms of the World Economic Forum extend the peer-to-peer engagements of Forum meetings throughout the year. The platforms provide all the materials and services needed to prepare for Forum events, including a messaging system connecting all participants and the up-to-date programme and list of participants.

Use the private area and the mobile apps to learn about the Annual Meeting programme. Some sessions require sign-up. Identify ahead of time the sessions that are of interest so you can sign up upon arrival and increase your chances of participating in your sessions of choice. Please see section 3.3.1 for more information.

Identify the participants you would like to meet and start collaborating and networking with them ahead of the Annual Meeting. Please refer to the online list of participants, which includes telephone and fax numbers and e-mail addresses.

Pre-register your credit card. Pre-registering will facilitate payment for sessions over meals. This can be done online or in Davos at Kiosks or Sign-up Desks. American Express, Diners Club, MasterCard and Visa cards are accepted.

2. Upon Arrival

2.1 Arriving in Switzerland

We recommend you arrive at Zurich-Kloten Airport, the nearest international airport – 160 kilometres (99 miles) from Davos-Klosters: www.zurich-airport.com

2.1.1. Arriving in Switzerland by Private Jet

If you arrive by private jet, we recommend flying to St.Gallen-Altenrhein Business Airport (www.peoples.ch) located 117 kilometres from Davos-Klosters. This airport is 30 minutes closer than Zurich-Kloten and provides a fast handling process with hangar parking facilities. Alternatively, you can fly to Samedan airport, Engadin (www.engadin-airport.ch), located 66 kilometres from Davos-Klosters.

2.1.2. Zurich-Kloten Airport

After collecting your luggage at Zurich-Kloten Airport, go to the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2013 Welcome Desk located in Terminal 1, where a staff member will assist you with your transfer to Davos-Klosters.

2.1.3. From Zurich to Davos-Klosters (and Davos-Klosters to Zurich)

An important way to lower emissions is to not only reduce overall traffic, but also restrict circulation to vehicles that fulfil environmentally friendly conditions. To support the Greener Davos Initiative (page 2), the Forum offers participants comfortable alternatives to get to, from and around Davos and Klosters without the need of a private car.

By Train

It takes about two hours and 40 minutes to reach Davos by train from Zurich. There are train connections from Zurich's main station to Davos every hour between 06.00 and 21.30. Please check the timetable and other information on the official Swiss Federal Railways website (<http://www.sbb.ch>). Choose Zurich Flughafen (airport) or Zurich HB (city) as departure point and Davos Platz or Davos Dorf as the destination. Many European cities can also be chosen as the departure point.

Zurich-Kloten Airport has its own underground railway station with train connections throughout Switzerland. The round-trip fare from Zurich Airport to Davos and Klosters is just over CHF 192 (first class) and CHF 112 (second class). Reservations are not necessary.

Travel to Davos-Klosters

From any airport around the world and with any airline, your luggage can be delivered directly to your railway station in Switzerland via Zurich or Geneva Airport. This means that when you arrive at the airport, you do not need to wait for your luggage as it is automatically forwarded to your destination station. For more information: <http://www.sbb.ch/en/station-services/services/baggage/fly-rail-baggage.html>

Departure from Davos-Klosters

You can check in your luggage at Davos Dorf, Davos Platz or Klosters railway station the day before your flight. At that time, you will be given your boarding pass with your reserved seat. Conditions and rate apply. For more information: <http://www.sbb.ch/en/station-services/services/baggage/check-in-at-the-railstation.html>

By Shuttle Bus (Free of Charge)

A complimentary bus service will operate exclusively for Annual Meeting participants from Zurich-Kloten Airport to Davos and Klosters, and back to Zurich-Kloten Airport, according to published schedules. In Davos, the bus will first stop at registration so participants can pick up their badge before checking into their hotel (subject to the opening hours of registration; see section 2.3.1 for exact times).

The 160-kilometre trip takes about two and one-half hours but could be longer due to traffic. More information will be available at the Annual Meeting 2013 Welcome Desk (Zurich-Kloten Airport at Terminal 1), where you can check in for this complimentary service.

From Zurich-Kloten Airport to Davos-Klosters

Tuesday 22 January: 07.00 - 22.00 every hour on the hour

Wednesday 23 January: 07.00 - 20.00 every hour on the hour

For the trip from Davos and Klosters to Zurich-Kloten Airport, participants must register in advance at the Additional Activities Desk located in the Hospitality Area (Middle Level) in the Congress Centre in Davos.

From Davos Shuttle Hub to Zurich-Kloten Airport

Sunday 27 January: 05.00 - 12.00 every hour on the hour

From Klosters hotels to Zurich-Kloten Airport

Sunday 27 January: 05.15 - 12.15 every hour at 15 minutes past the hour

By Car

It will take about two hours (160 kilometres) to get to Davos by car from Zurich, depending on weather conditions. From Zurich-Kloten Airport, take A51 to Zurich and look for road signs to Chur (Expressway A); take exit "Landquart-Davos" and follow road signs to Davos. For more details or for other starting points, browse on www.mappy.com (use "Kloten" as the starting point for the International Airport).

At the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2013, the Forum is pursuing an initiative introduced three years ago. The Greener Davos initiative aims to lower the amount of pollutants released into the environment by the over 2,600 participants and staff travelling from Zurich to and within Davos and Klosters. This initiative further advances the Forum's mission of "improving the state of the world".

Vehicles arriving in Davos will be required to meet the emission standards listed below, which were agreed on by the Forum and the town of Davos. Vehicles unable to meet these standards will not be able to access the security zones around the Congress Centre or the Hotels Belvédère and Seehof.

The emission standards are:

Limousine

CO₂ emission rate

Maximum 191 g/km

Fuel consumption

Maximum 9 l/100 km

Energy tag

Category D or lower

Van (vehicles with 6-9 seats)

CO₂ emission rate

Maximum 235g/km

Vehicles with a capacity of more than nine seats (10+) are not subject to these requirements.

2.2 Transportation within Davos-Klosters

Distances between the venues in Davos are quite short and in most cases can be walked. A public bus service operates in Davos, and this year PostAuto is providing two yellow fuel cell-powered buses which are integrated into the Davos public transport lines. These hydrogen-powered buses with zero emissions are particularly innovative and sustainable. There are also trains between Davos and Klosters. In addition, the Forum shuttle service will operate in Davos and between Davos and Klosters, and will stop at most venues and hotels.

The Davos public transportation network is free of charge upon presentation of a participant's badge.

Forum Shuttle Hub

The Forum shuttle hub is located at the main entrance of the Congress Centre, on Talstrasse. The Forum shuttles will depart from the hub and cover the entire Davos and Klosters area. There are regular stops throughout Davos and in Klosters.

Congress Centre Map

At registration you will receive:

- Your badge. The badge is a personalized smart card with your name and photograph, and in combination with the integrated microprocessor serves as the security token. It allows you to enter the Congress Centre, access your mail account and agenda in the Kiosk system, and store entry tickets for sessions taking place in rooms Aspen 1, Aspen 2 and Sanada as well as for meal sessions and the Soirée on the Magic Mountain for which you have signed up. You will be requested to wear it visibly throughout the Meeting to have access to all the activities; it will also facilitate contacts.
- Your Annual Meeting bag, which contains the programme, participants booklet and other important information collected on a USB key. Remember to place your business card in the outside slot of the bag so that it can be easily identified.

3. On-site Information

3.1 Special Events and Networking Occasions

Tuesday 22 January

Professor Klaus Schwab invites all newcomers and interested participants to a briefing by the Managing Board on the institution's strategic vision and latest initiatives from 16.00 to 16.45 in room Sanada.

The Welcome Address from the Executive Chairman and the Crystal Awards Ceremony will take place in the Congress Centre at 18.00 and will be followed by a special concert at 18.30 in the Congress Hall.

Professor and Mrs Klaus Schwab, together with the Managing Board, will host a Welcome Reception in the Plenary Lobby of the Congress Centre from 19.30 to 20.30 to reconfirm the spirit of friendship and community of the Annual Meeting.

Wednesday 23 January

Participants and their spouses are cordially invited to the opening buffet lunch (taking place throughout the Congress Centre) from 12.30 to 14.00 hosted by the Government of Peru.

Saturday 26 January

As of 19.00, participants and spouses are cordially invited upon sign-up to enjoy the Soirée on the Magic Mountain. This venue is accessible by funicular railway just a short walk or bus ride from the Congress Centre. Cocktail attire is required.

3.2 Sources of Information

3.2.1 Information Desks

Throughout the Congress Centre, World Economic Forum staff at Information Desks can answer any questions you might have regarding the programme or the venue.

3.2.2 Management Desk

Receptionists at the Management Desk in the Congress Centre will be glad to answer any questions you might have or help you contact a World Economic Forum staff member. You can call the Management Desk as of Sunday 20 January at +41 (0)22 787 3100.

You can also inquire at this desk for objects lost or found in the Congress Centre.

For objects lost or found outside the Congress Centre, call +41 (0)81 414 3330 or go to Berglistutz 1, Davos Platz.

3.2.3 Online – The Private Area, Mobile Apps and the Kiosks

The Forum's online platforms enable the peer-to-peer engagements that are the hallmark of World Economic Forum meetings to be extended throughout the year. Visit <https://private.weforum.org> to learn more about the Annual Meeting and to start collaborating with other participants. Participants with mobile devices can also download and install applications (apps) for Forum meetings. Full details and links to the mobile apps are available at www.weforum.org/apps. If you are bringing your Android, BlackBerry, iPad, iPhone, iPod Touch or Windows Phone 7 device to the Annual Meeting, we strongly encourage you to install the apps. If you had the mobile apps installed for a previous Forum meeting (e.g. Annual Meeting 2012), you should upgrade to the latest version in January 2013.

To use the private area or the mobile apps, you will need your personal username and password. If you do not know or have forgotten them, they can be retrieved online using your registered e-mail address (the e-mail address used when registering for the Annual Meeting or communicating with the Forum throughout the year). For any questions, please contact techsupport@weforum.org.

To make the most of the Annual Meeting online services, we encourage you to:

- Use the list of participants to find the contact information of other participants
- Check and search the regularly updated programme
- Find out who the discussion leaders are in a session
- Check your personal agenda including any speaking roles, private events or bilateral meetings
- Access logistical information for the Meeting
- Connect with other participants
- Pre-register your credit card in a secure manner (this service will save you time when signing up for meals on site)
- Sign up for sessions (further information will be sent in January)

Once in Davos-Klosters, you will find 100 Kiosk stations positioned throughout the Congress Centre and in selected hotels. The Kiosks provide all of the above services in addition to printing facilities and easy login using your Annual Meeting badge. All online platforms work in parallel with the Sign-up Desks. Whichever platform you choose, the end result is the same – any action on one is instantly reflected on the other.

You can find more information about the private area, the Kiosks and various technologies at the Technology Support Desks located on the Promenade and Middle Levels.

3.2.4 Public Website (www.weforum.org)

The Forum website is dedicated to public engagement on the topics discussed at the Annual Meeting. The website includes webcasts and photos, links to outside coverage and information on the major outcomes of each day. It also provides an overview of other Forum activities, including public-private partnerships, research and the knowledge captured at past Forum events.

3.2.5 The Big Screen and Bulletin Boards

The Big Screen in the Davos Lounge located in the Plenary Lobby Hall will display up-to-the-minute programming schedules, photos, videos from the sessions and the latest social media information from around the globe.

Bulletin Boards – plasma screens located throughout the Congress Hall – will display relevant programme information including updates to the programme, quotes from panellists, insights of the day and headline news from leading international newspapers, as well as information on remaining space in upcoming sessions.

3.2.6 Internet Access and Public Wi-Fi

Laptops and printers for Internet use will be available at numerous locations in the Congress Centre. Free, public Wi-Fi will also be available throughout the Congress Centre for access from personal laptops and smartphones.

3.2.7 Forum Insight

World Economic Forum publications will be available at the Kiosk terminals in the main entrance corridor of the Congress Hall.

The Kiosks provide:

- General information on the Forum
- Industry reports
- Initiative reports
- Regional reports and information on upcoming activities
- Insight reports and session summaries

All documents will be available in electronic format through the Kiosks and tablet computers. Electronic documents will be available in PDF format for e-mailing or downloading to USB flash drives. Hard copies of documents will be available at the Kiosks and on request.

Insight reports written by participant “rapporteurs” and session summaries written by professional writers bring out the key issues, trends and news discussed in the sessions of the Annual Meeting. Summary writers cover most of the sessions. Insight reports and summaries are distributed through the Kiosks and on the World Economic Forum website as soon as they are available.

Only World Economic Forum publications are distributed on the Kiosks. The only other documents distributed through the Congress Centre are newsstand publications.

3.2.8 Your Contact Person at the World Economic Forum

Your contact person of the World Economic Forum is at your disposal to assist with any queries you might have.

3.3 The Sessions

3.3.1 Sign-up for Sessions and Meals

The Annual Meeting programme indicates which sessions you need to sign up for and the access allowed to the different working sessions.

Participants must sign up for sessions taking place in rooms Aspen 1, Aspen 2 and Sanada and sessions over meals (the cost per meal is 95 CHF) to allow fair allocation of the limited number of seats available per session. As in the previous Annual Meeting, the Forum will honour its Members by giving them privileged access. Participants are also invited to sign up to participate in the Soirée on the Magic Mountain on Saturday evening.

In addition to online options such as the private area and mobile apps, there are Sign-up Desks and Kiosks throughout the venue and at selected hotels.

1) At Sign-up Desks you can:

- Initialize your credit card; American Express, Diners Club, MasterCard or Visa cards are accepted
- Sign up with staff assistance; in the final programme you can find sign-up cards that you can complete with the numbers of the sessions in which you wish to take part before coming to the Sign-up Desk
- Cancel sessions or meals for which you have signed up
- Collect receipts for meals

2) At the Kiosks or online (private area and mobile apps) you can:

- Initialize your credit card; American Express, Diners Club, MasterCard or Visa are accepted
- Sign up for sessions and meals
- Verify the sessions for which you have signed up by checking your personal agenda
- Cancel sessions or meals for which you have signed up

Please note: Cancellation for meals is not possible from the Kiosks or online if they were paid for in cash at a Sign-up Desk.

Sign-up for a session closes at the starting time of the sessions taking place in rooms Aspen 1, Aspen 2 and Sanada and 45 minutes prior to the time of a meal. Participants wishing to take part in the Soirée on the Magic Mountain on Saturday evening can sign up until 17.00 on Saturday 26 January.

The Sign-up Desks are open from 14.00 to 21.00 on Tuesday 22 January, and from 07.30 to 20.00 on Wednesday 23 January to Saturday 26 January.

Sign-up for all sessions on all days of the Annual Meeting is available online and on the Kiosks at selected hotels in Davos-Klosters on Tuesday 22 January as of 14.00. Sign-up from the Kiosk and online remains available 24 hours a day.

We strongly encourage those who are unable to arrive in Davos-Klosters on the first day of the Annual Meeting to use the private area or the mobile apps to sign up for sessions.

No sign-up is required for sessions taking place on Wednesday 23 January, except for dinners.

- You need your badge or your username and password for the private area to sign up. World Economic Forum staff members are not permitted to sign up on behalf of a participant.
- Refunds for cancelled meals can only be obtained before 09.45 for lunches, and before 16.15 for dinners. After these times, should you wish to sign up for a different meal, you must resubmit payment.
 - Out of respect for your fellow participants and to facilitate the smooth running of the Annual Meeting, please cancel any sign-up for a session in which you will not take part. You can cancel from the Kiosk, online or at a Sign-up Desk.

- Please note that if you do not cancel a sign-up for a session requiring payment, you will be charged even if you do not take part in the session.

3.3.2 Personal Agenda

Your personal agenda is available online and on the Kiosks. In addition, your World Economic Forum contact person can prepare a personalized agenda for you, based on your interests. All sessions and private events to which you sign up are automatically transferred into your personal agenda.

3.3.3 Programme Modifications

You can find the latest version of the programme on the Kiosks or online. Programme modifications are displayed on the Kiosks and Bulletin Boards.

3.3.4 Interpretation

The official languages of the Annual Meeting are English, French, German, Spanish, Russian, Japanese, Chinese and Arabic. All plenary sessions are interpreted into the official languages. Interpretation for sessions is indicated in the final programme that you will receive at registration. There is no interpretation over meals.

3.3.5 Forum Live Lounges

Plenary sessions are transmitted live in high definition format (HDTV) at some of the official hotels. Free Internet access is also provided in the Forum Live Lounges.

3.4 Spouses

Spouses may use the Kiosks or Sign-up Desks to sign up for sessions but do not have access to the private area. However, whenever participants sign up for a meal session, the private area and the Kiosk will automatically ask them if they would like to sign up their spouse at the same time.

3.5 Media

3.5.1 Media Leaders and Reporting Press

The World Economic Forum hosts two main types of media representatives: media leaders and reporting press.

Media leaders range from the publisher or editor-in-chief of an international media organization to the editor-in-chief, editor or columnist of a national or regional media organization. Media leaders have full participant status. They wear white badges marked "media". Media leaders are considered experts and have active roles in sessions, but are expected to abide by the off-the-record nature of some sessions.

The reporting press includes reporters, foreign correspondents, news agency journalists and broadcast journalists who are at the Annual Meeting to report. They have full access to all official sessions but not to the off-the-record sessions. In addition, while they have access to all the public areas of the Congress Centre, some participants' areas are restricted. They do, however, have access to the Media Centre and all other facilities needed for their work.

3.5.2 Press Conferences

There are many possibilities to secure access to the media during the Annual Meeting. The Forum's Media team arranges press conferences on newsworthy and relevant topics with participants such as business leaders, public figures, scientists, NGO representatives and academics for journalists covering the Annual Meeting. The press conference room is located in the Congress Centre.

3.5.3 One-on-One Interviews

As the reporting press has access to the electronic messaging system on the Kiosks, they may contact participants to arrange one-on-one interviews. You are free to reply to any requests, but you are not obliged. Do not hesitate to contact the Media team of the World Economic Forum to secure access to media and for help to coordinate interviews or meetings.

3.5.4 Media Facilities

The Media Centre, located in the media tent, includes the following services and activities for the reporting press:

- Opening hours from 08.00 to 22.00
- Access to Kiosks for contact with participants
- Simultaneous transmission of selected sessions
- Press conferences
- TV studio, live stand-up positions and an interview room

The Media team also organizes a special programme for media that gives journalists the possibility to meet top-level participants.

3.5.5 Media Policy

Press opportunities should conform to the overall non-commercial goals of the Forum and remain within the spirit of the World Economic Forum's mission. The Forum does not release lists of the media or journalists participating in the Annual Meeting.

Other activities taking place outside the Congress Centre, such as private events and meals, are not accessible to reporting press and are off the record. No recording devices are allowed in these sessions. Reporting press can only take part if specifically authorized by the World Economic Forum's Media team.

Please coordinate all your communication efforts with the Media team by contacting Fon Mathuros at fmathuro@weforum.org.

3.6 Social Media Initiatives

The Annual Meeting 2013 will make full use of online collaboration with major social networks. For questions about leveraging social networks before and during the Annual Meeting, please contact Chris Parker, Digital Editor, World Economic Forum, by telephone at +41 (0)22 869 3661, or by e-mail at chris.parker@weforum.org (@chris_parker, @Davos, @WEF).

3.6.1 Forum Live

Forum Live (previously the Social Media Corner) is a live webcast channel hosted on the home page of www.weforum.org, streamed live to the World Economic Forum's channel on www.youtube.com and through other social media channels such as Facebook Live. The channel will feature the best of Davos with linking commentary, analysis and interviews with key participants.

3.6.2 Insight Reporting (<http://wef.ch/AM13insights>)

The World Economic Forum has opened a new official role in the programme, that of "Rapporteur". Rapporteurs report on key issues and insights in select sessions. Sessions covered by rapporteurs will be made available on our website with a short video interview, written commentary and photographs from the session. If you are interested in participating as an official rapporteur, please let your Forum contact know.

3.6.3 Video Webcasts

During the Annual Meeting, plenary sessions, press conferences and insight reporting interviews will be broadcast on webcasts on Forum Live (<http://wef.ch/live>). This year, there will be two additional Livestream channels featuring Davos content. Feel free to embed any of the Livestream video feeds on your website or event page using the following instructions: <http://livestream.com/worldeconomicforum>

All press conferences will be streamed live on <http://wef.ch/live01>, allowing anyone to pose questions to panellists. Immediately after each session, the videos will be available on our website (<http://www.weforum.org/videos>) and on iTunes, and can be watched on demand on YouTube (<http://wef.ch/videos>) and in Chinese on Youku (<http://wef.ch/youku>).

3.6.4 Facebook

Davos content, news and views will be shared throughout the Annual Meeting on our Facebook fan page (<http://facebook.com/worldeconomicforum>).

3.6.5 Twitter

The Forum will compile an official Twitter list (<http://twitter.com/Davos/Davos2013>), including all participants active on the micro-blogging service. The tweets from the official Twitter list will be displayed on the Bulletin Boards.

We invite you to follow the World Economic Forum on Twitter @Davos as well as our live tweet account @WEF where we tweet key quotes from official plenary sessions and where most of the Twitter chatter will happen. The best tweets, photographs and videos from the Annual Meeting will be collated on Storify (<http://storify.com/wef>). You can also follow our communities: @GlobalShapers, @TechPioneers, @SchwabFound and @YGLVoices.

Chinese speakers can get updates in Chinese on Sina Weibo (<http://wef.ch/weibo>). Do not forget to indicate your Twitter handle during the online registration to be included on the official Twitter list.

3.6.6 Forum Blog (<http://www.forumblog.org>)

Participants are invited to publish their ideas and insights on www.forumblog.org. During the Annual Meeting 2012, more than 90 blog posts were published during the event. We commission short blog post(s), a maximum of 400 words – sharing your thoughts on the Meeting and discussing any of the key issues important to you. Along with the substantial traffic we get on our blog site, we promote these posts on our Facebook page to more than 113,000 fans, on our Twitter page to more than 1.7 million followers, and to our Google+ profile with more than 1.6 million followers.

A blog post is a personal, informal way of reaching readers online and should have a different feel than a news release or a report's executive summary. Your post should start a conversation with readers, who are invited to leave comments. It is essential to communicate clearly, in a way that people with no knowledge of the Forum or its activities can understand. Let your Forum contact know if you have a blog post to publish.

3.6.7 Geolocation Services

We have plotted the Congress Centre as well as the key hotels in Davos on Foursquare (<https://foursquare.com/wef/list/davos/>) and on Facebook Places, making it easier for participants to check in on the geolocation service.

3.6.8 Public Mobile App

Session videos, blog posts, photographs, tweets and Twitter lists from the Annual Meeting 2013 will be available on the public mobile app. Go to <http://www.weforum.org/publicapp> for full details on how to install it on your mobile device.

3.7 Arts and Culture

The cultural programme is an integral part of the Annual Meeting. It includes the participation of artists and cultural leaders who showcase how the arts exert a powerful influence on societal developments, raise awareness of social issues, break down barriers for cross-cultural understanding and global dialogue, and inspire creative thinking.

The Arts and Culture brochure, distributed in the bag you will receive at registration and available in the key document area of the private area of the website, highlights sessions in the official programme related to arts and culture. It features a list of participating cultural leaders including 2013 Crystal Award winners, and provides information about the art exhibition in the Congress Centre.

Participants who wish to meet with the participating artists and cultural leaders and find out more about the activities of the World Economic Forum to emphasize the role of the arts in society are welcome to visit the Arts and Culture lounge in the Congress Centre.

3.8 Open Forum 2013

During the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting, the Forum will organize discussions for the general public. These events will be held in parallel to the Annual Meeting. The Open Forum offers the public an opportunity to engage and interact with experts on issues of global relevance.

In 2013, participants will have the opportunity to share their opinions by addressing the following topics:

Wednesday 23 January

- 12.30 - 14.00 Mega Sporting Events: In Whose Interest?
- 19.00 - 20.30 Unemployed or Unemployable?

Thursday 24 January

- 12.30 - 14.00 Is Religion Outdated in the 21st Century?
- 19.00 - 20.30 Life Lessons from Jazz: Improvisation as a Way of Life

Friday 25 January

- 12.30 - 14.00 NGOs: New Models for the 21st Century
- 19.00 - 20.30 Eurozone: Solidarity or Domination?

Saturday 26 January

- 11.00 - 12.30 War against Obesity: Fat Invoice?

Open Forum sessions will take place at the Swiss Alpine High School (SAMD), located on Guggerbachstrasse 3, 7270 Davos Platz. The public bus stop is Postplatz.

4. Support Services

4.1 Logistics

PublicisLive, a subsidiary of Publicis Group, is the official logistics and production provider of the World Economic Forum. The PublicisLive Desk is located on the Middle Level of the Congress Centre.

4.2 Medical Services

Doctors and a medical emergency response team are available in the Congress Centre on the Lower Level during the Annual Meeting.

4.3 Security

The World Economic Forum Annual Meeting is recognized internationally as one of the key gatherings of the year. Because of this profile, the Swiss authorities take strict preventive measures to ensure the appropriate level of security.

Should you have any questions related to security, please contact:

Guy-Serge Baer
Director, Head of Security Affairs
World Economic Forum
Tel.: +41 (0)22 869 1499
Mobile: +41 (0)79 418 7806
E-mail: guy-serge.baer@weforum.org

4.4 Mobile Network and Mobile Phone Rental

Switzerland uses the international GSM (Global System for Mobile Telephony – 900/1800) standard. Foreign visitors can use mobile phones outside their national network under the international roaming system.

Through RentaPhone, a service provider of the World Economic Forum, you can reserve a mobile phone on the Internet, by e-mail or by telephone. You can pick up your mobile phone at the RentaPhone Area in the Congress Centre in Davos or it could be delivered to your hotel.

To take advantage of mobile phone rentals at a special rate with RentaPhone, contact the company by telephone at +41 (0)44 505 0130, fax at +41 (0)44 505 0131 or e-mail at info@rentaphone.ch, or go to www.rentaphone.ch.

In Davos at the Registration Area or in the Congress Centre, contact the Davos Hotline at 079 752 0101.

4.5 DHL Services

DHL offers its delivery services to participants. From the DHL Express Delivery Desk (Middle Level) you can send home a package – up to two kilos – free of charge.

DHL Desk opening hours:
Wednesday 23 to Friday 25 January 08.30 - 19.00
Saturday 26 January 08.00 - 19.00
Sunday 27 January 08.00 - 13.00

More information is available at www.dhl.ch. During the Annual Meeting, you can contact DHL at:

Tel.: +41 (0)84 871 1711
Fax: +41 (0)84 871 2712

4.6 Photographs

Images taken by the official photographers are available on the Annual Meeting 2013 private website, under Useful Information (HYPERLINK "https://private/" <https://private.weforum.org>) and on a public website (<http://wef.ch/pics>). A selection of the best photographs taken at the Annual Meeting will be available free of charge under the creative commons licence (cc-by-sa) on Flickr (<http://wef.ch/AM13pix>). All photos from the Annual Meeting are also available from our official photographers, Swiss-Image. A photo gallery with the best photographs will be displayed on the Big Screen and Bulletin Boards in the Davos Lounge.

4.7 Prayer Room

A prayer room will be available to all participants and will be located on the Middle Level.

4.8 Useful Numbers in Davos

The country code for Switzerland is 41. To call Switzerland from abroad, start with the international access code of the country you are calling from, then dial the country code and drop the initial zero from the area code (e.g. for Davos, dial +41 81). The international access code from Switzerland is 00. Include the 0 of the Swiss area code (081 for Davos) if you are calling from Davos or elsewhere in Switzerland.

5. Leisure Activities in Davos-Klosters

Leisure activities take place outside the Congress Centre during the Annual Meeting. The schedule of these activities will appear in the final programme that you will receive at registration. You can sign up for activities at the Additional Activities Desk (Hospitality Area, Middle Level) in the Congress Centre.

Audi Driving Experience (two-hour sessions from 09.00)

The Audi Driving Experience course promotes safety awareness and improves driving skills in combination with offering driving pleasure. Under the supervision of experienced instructors, you will learn to master critical situations such as hazard avoidance, braking on a turn and skid correction. The course is designed for experienced drivers. Should you be interested in a course, register well in advance by e-mailing Audi at driving-experience.davos@audi.de. Audi also provides a wide range of the latest car models for an exclusive test drive.

Should you have any questions or require further information, the Audi driving experience team will be pleased to assist you.

City Tour Davos

The history of Davos and its surroundings began with the arrival of the Walser people in the 13th century. Today, Davos has developed into an international sport, health, holiday and congress resort. It has all the atmosphere and amenities of a small city while being surrounded by an idyllic natural world. This guided tour will give you an insight into its transformation from farming community to Europe's highest altitude resort. The tour takes in historic cultural buildings, famous sightseeing attractions and historic sites.

Cross-Country Skiing

Enjoy the cross-country ski trails in the romantic side valleys or the FIS racing trails in the Flüela valley. You are bound to find your perfect trail among the well-prepared classic and skating trails in the region of Davos-Klosters. Instructors are happy to help you.

Local Folk Museum

When the Walsers from the Swiss Canton of Valais began to settle as farmers in the Landschaft Davos in the 13th century, no one could have imagined that some 700 years later Davos would have developed into Europe's highest altitude holiday and congress town. This valuable collection of ancient Davos artefacts and scripts documents the transformation of the farming community and the ultimate development of the mountain region into the Davos of today – an international sport, health and research resort.

Cheese Fondue Cooking Course

Learn how to make Switzerland's favourite cheese speciality under expert guidance. The "cheese master" will first let you in on the secrets of a fine fondue. You then prepare your own fondue at the table and the master himself will pass judgement. Enjoy a relaxed cookery lesson in the informal atmosphere of a traditional mountain hut.

Winter Walk

Enjoy a winter walk on the Schatzalp.

Sweet Dreams

For many years now, the Confiserie Schneider has produced its own products such as truffles and pralines. The traditional recipes are creatively adapted from year to year. The chief confectioner will let you look over his shoulder while he is making chocolate dreams and other home-made specialities. After the tour of the factory, you can try the homemade nut cake in the café or on the sunny terrace.

Husky Adventure

Experience a special husky adventure. After some initial instructions, it will be your turn to try. Feel the amazing strength of the huskies as they pull you and the sled through the deep snow.
